

Helping your children choose books they will love

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

An extract from
The Snow Leopard

Written by Jackie Morris

Published by Frances Lincoln Children's Books

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Late one evening, in a cave of soft mosses high in the mountains where the air was thin and stars sparkled in sky and snow, the Child took the great leopard's head in her hands.

The Snow Leopard licked the Child's cold face, rough cat tongue against soft skin, purring her final spirit song. And as she licked, Child became Leopard, thick-furred and wild-eyed, mottled like shadows, spirit cat.

