PRE-READING SAFETY CHECKS

Before reading this, or ANY book, you must make sure you have all of the correct

BRABSE

WHAT IS BRABSE?

Good question! BRABSE is short for Book Reading And Browsing Safety Equipment.

NOTE: I'm afraid there will be A LOT of abbreviations like that in this book.

We DANGEROLOGISTS have so much danger to point out in the world that very often

TITTUFW

(There Isn't Time To Use Full Words).

Basic BRABSE

1. READING GOGGLES

Every year, hundreds of people go to hospital, having been poked in the eye while reading books THEY DIDN'T REALIZE WERE POP-UP BOOKS.

Imagine how AWFUL that is.

You're reading a book . . .

'I'm really enjoying this nice book,' you're thinking to yourself . . . 'It's just so relaxing and entertaining . . . I can't wait to turn the page and enjoy more of . . .'

Suddenly your pop-up book BOPS YOU IN THE FACE!

They shouldn't be called pop-up books. They should be called EXPLODING TERROR MACHINES.

For things in this book that are Really Awfully Dangerous (RAD),
I will honk the RAD HORN to remind you to PAY SPECIAL ATTENTION.

HONK! HONK! HONK!

So, before reading this or ANY book,

ALWAYS

ALWAYS

REMEMBER TO CHECK IF IT IS A POP-UP BOOK.

HOW TO CHECK IF A BOOK IS A POP-UP BOOK

1. Put on your READING GOGGLES.

2. With the book facing AWAY from you, open each page in front of a soft cushion or pillow. Then, if anything jumps out, the very worst that can happen is that the CUSHION/PILLOW GETS BOPPED.

3. If nothing pops up, you can BEGIN READING THE BOOK IMMEDIATELY or put it into the TIDNAPUB (This Is Definitely Not A Pop-Up Book) section of your bookshelf.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU FIND A POP-UP BOOK

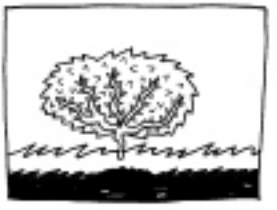

1. Dig a very deep hole.

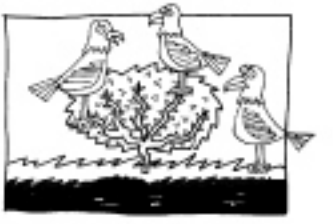

2. Place the book at the bottom of that hole.

3. Fill in the hole.

4. Plant a prickly bush on top of where the hole was.

5. Put a family of very large, angry eagles in that bush so that nobody ever goes near it again.

NOTE: READING GOGGLES also protect your book from being splashed by your tears if it is a particularly sad book.

NOTE 2: This is not a sad book, BUT you may CRY WITH TERROR as some of the things in it are so scary.

For example, there will be a section about bus stops that is really, really terrifying. I won't say anything else about it at the moment because it is SO SCARY it might put you off reading any more of this book. Ugh, I shouldn't even have mentioned it.

PLEASE TRY TO FORGET WHAT I JUST SAID.
