

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

Opening extract from

Jack and the Beanstalk

Written by

Stephen Tucker

Illustrated by

Nick Sharratt

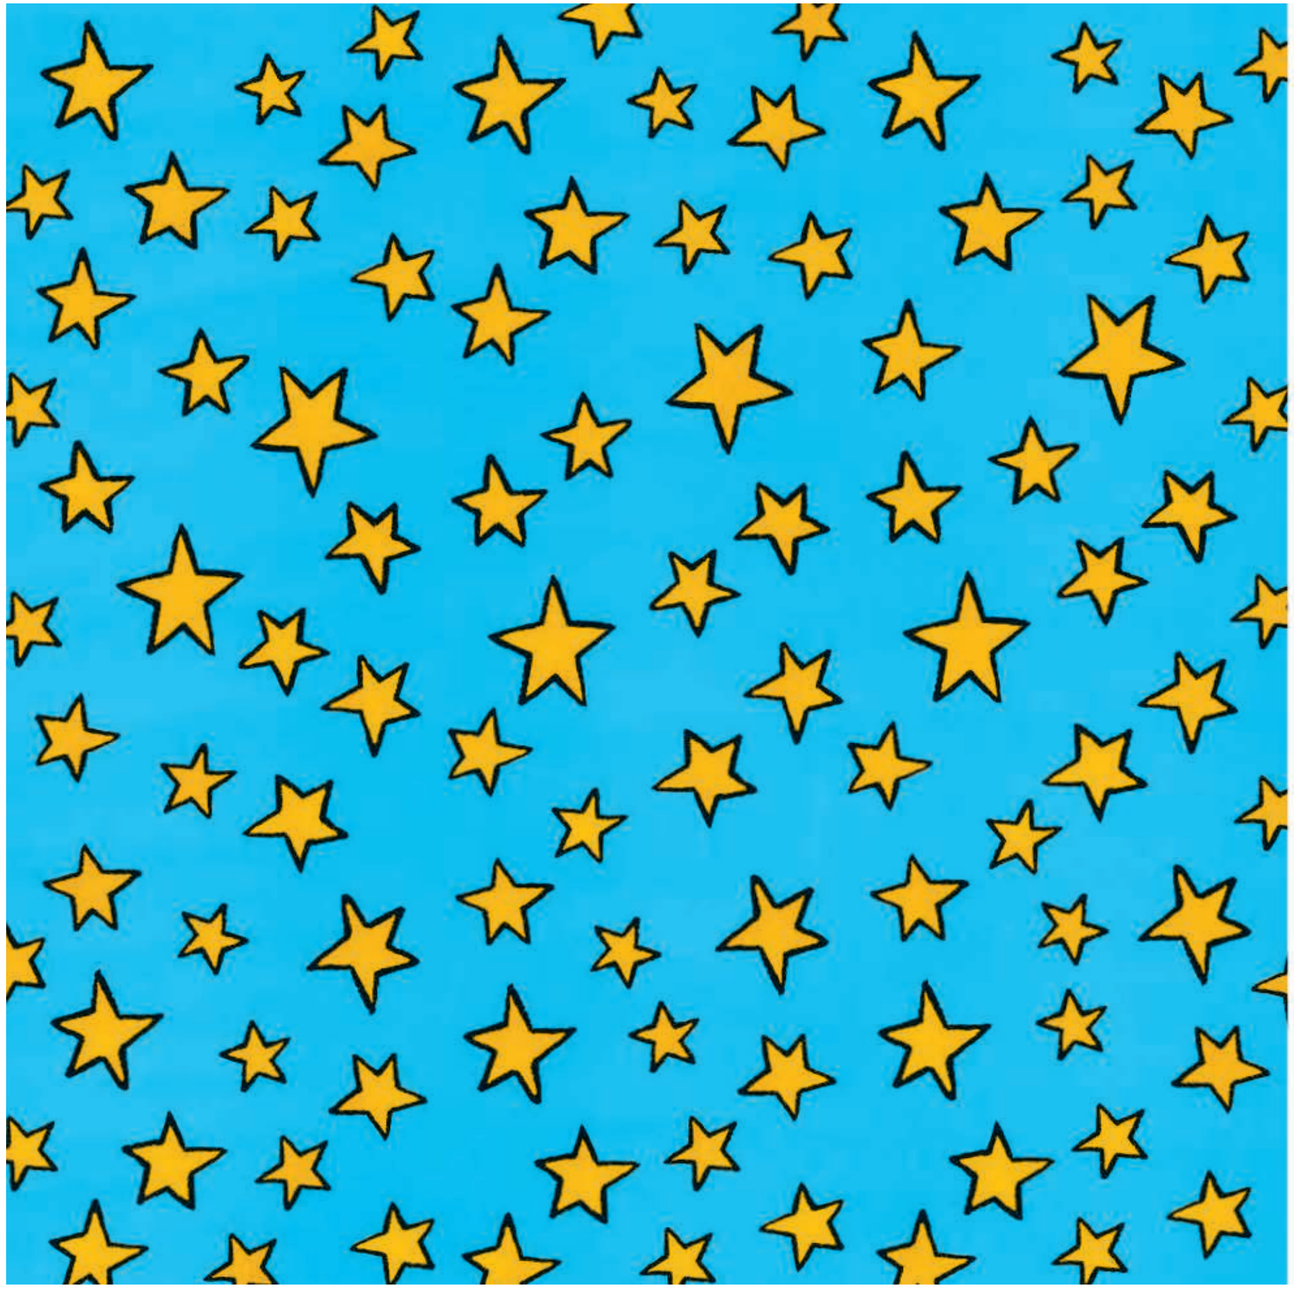

Published by

Macmillan Children's Books

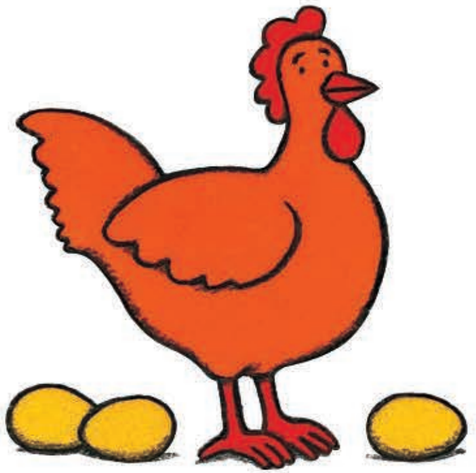

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Lovereading4kids.co.uk

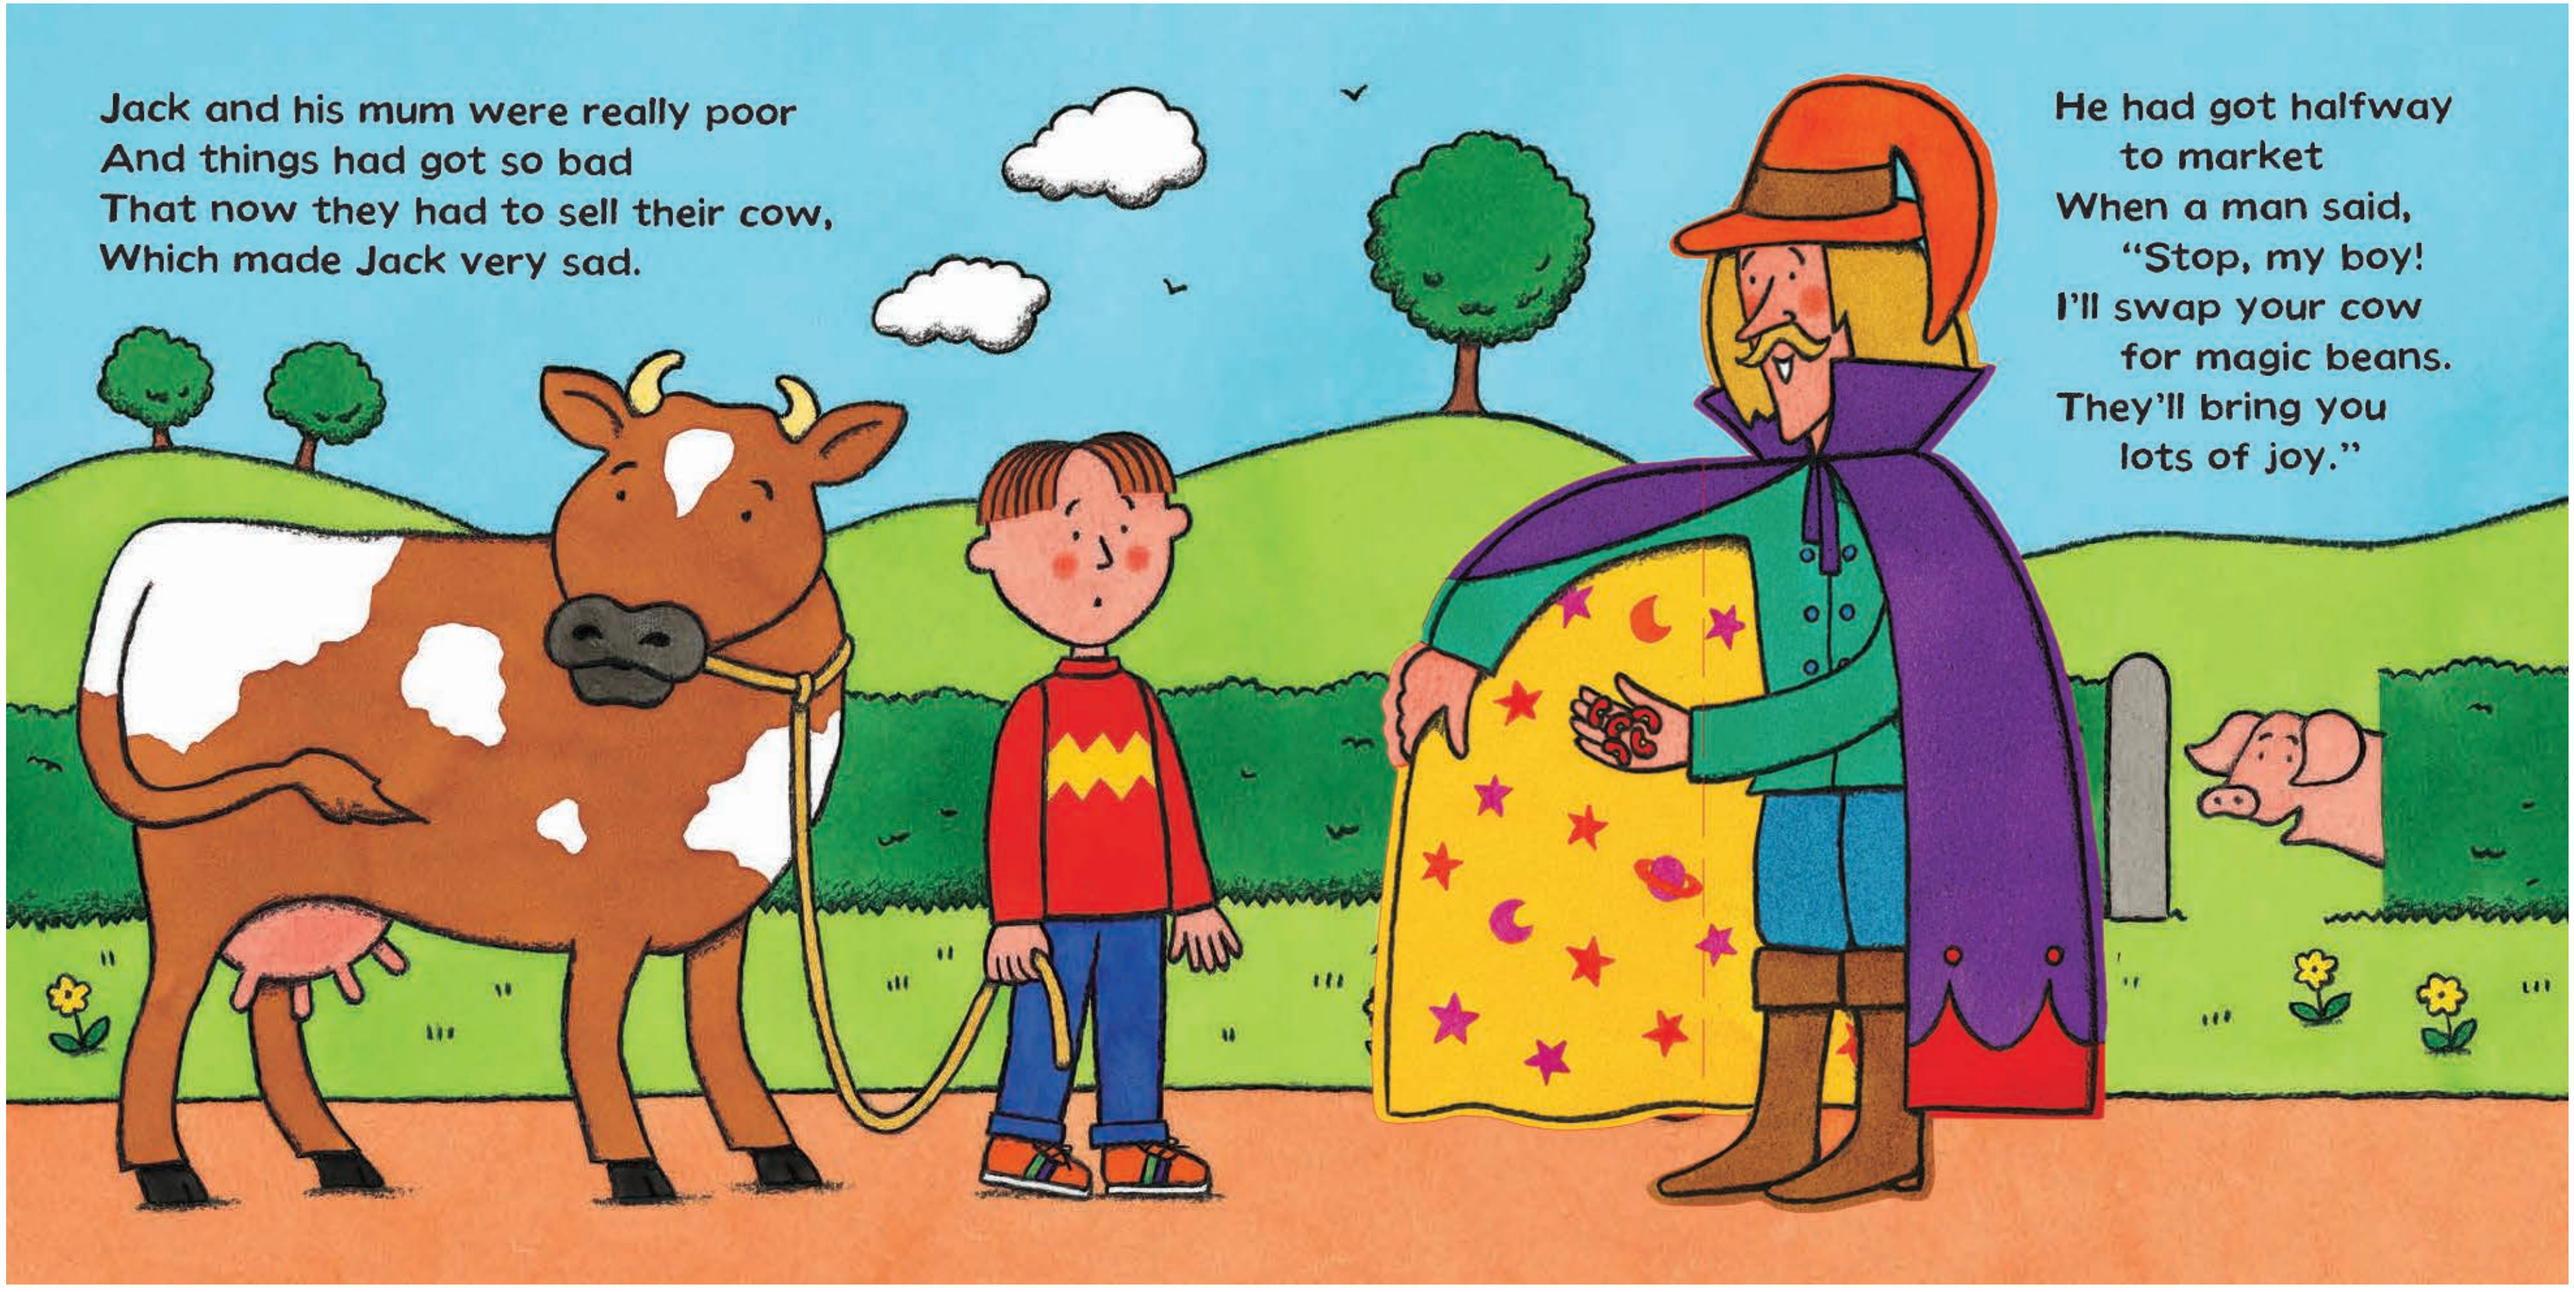

Jack and the Beanstalk

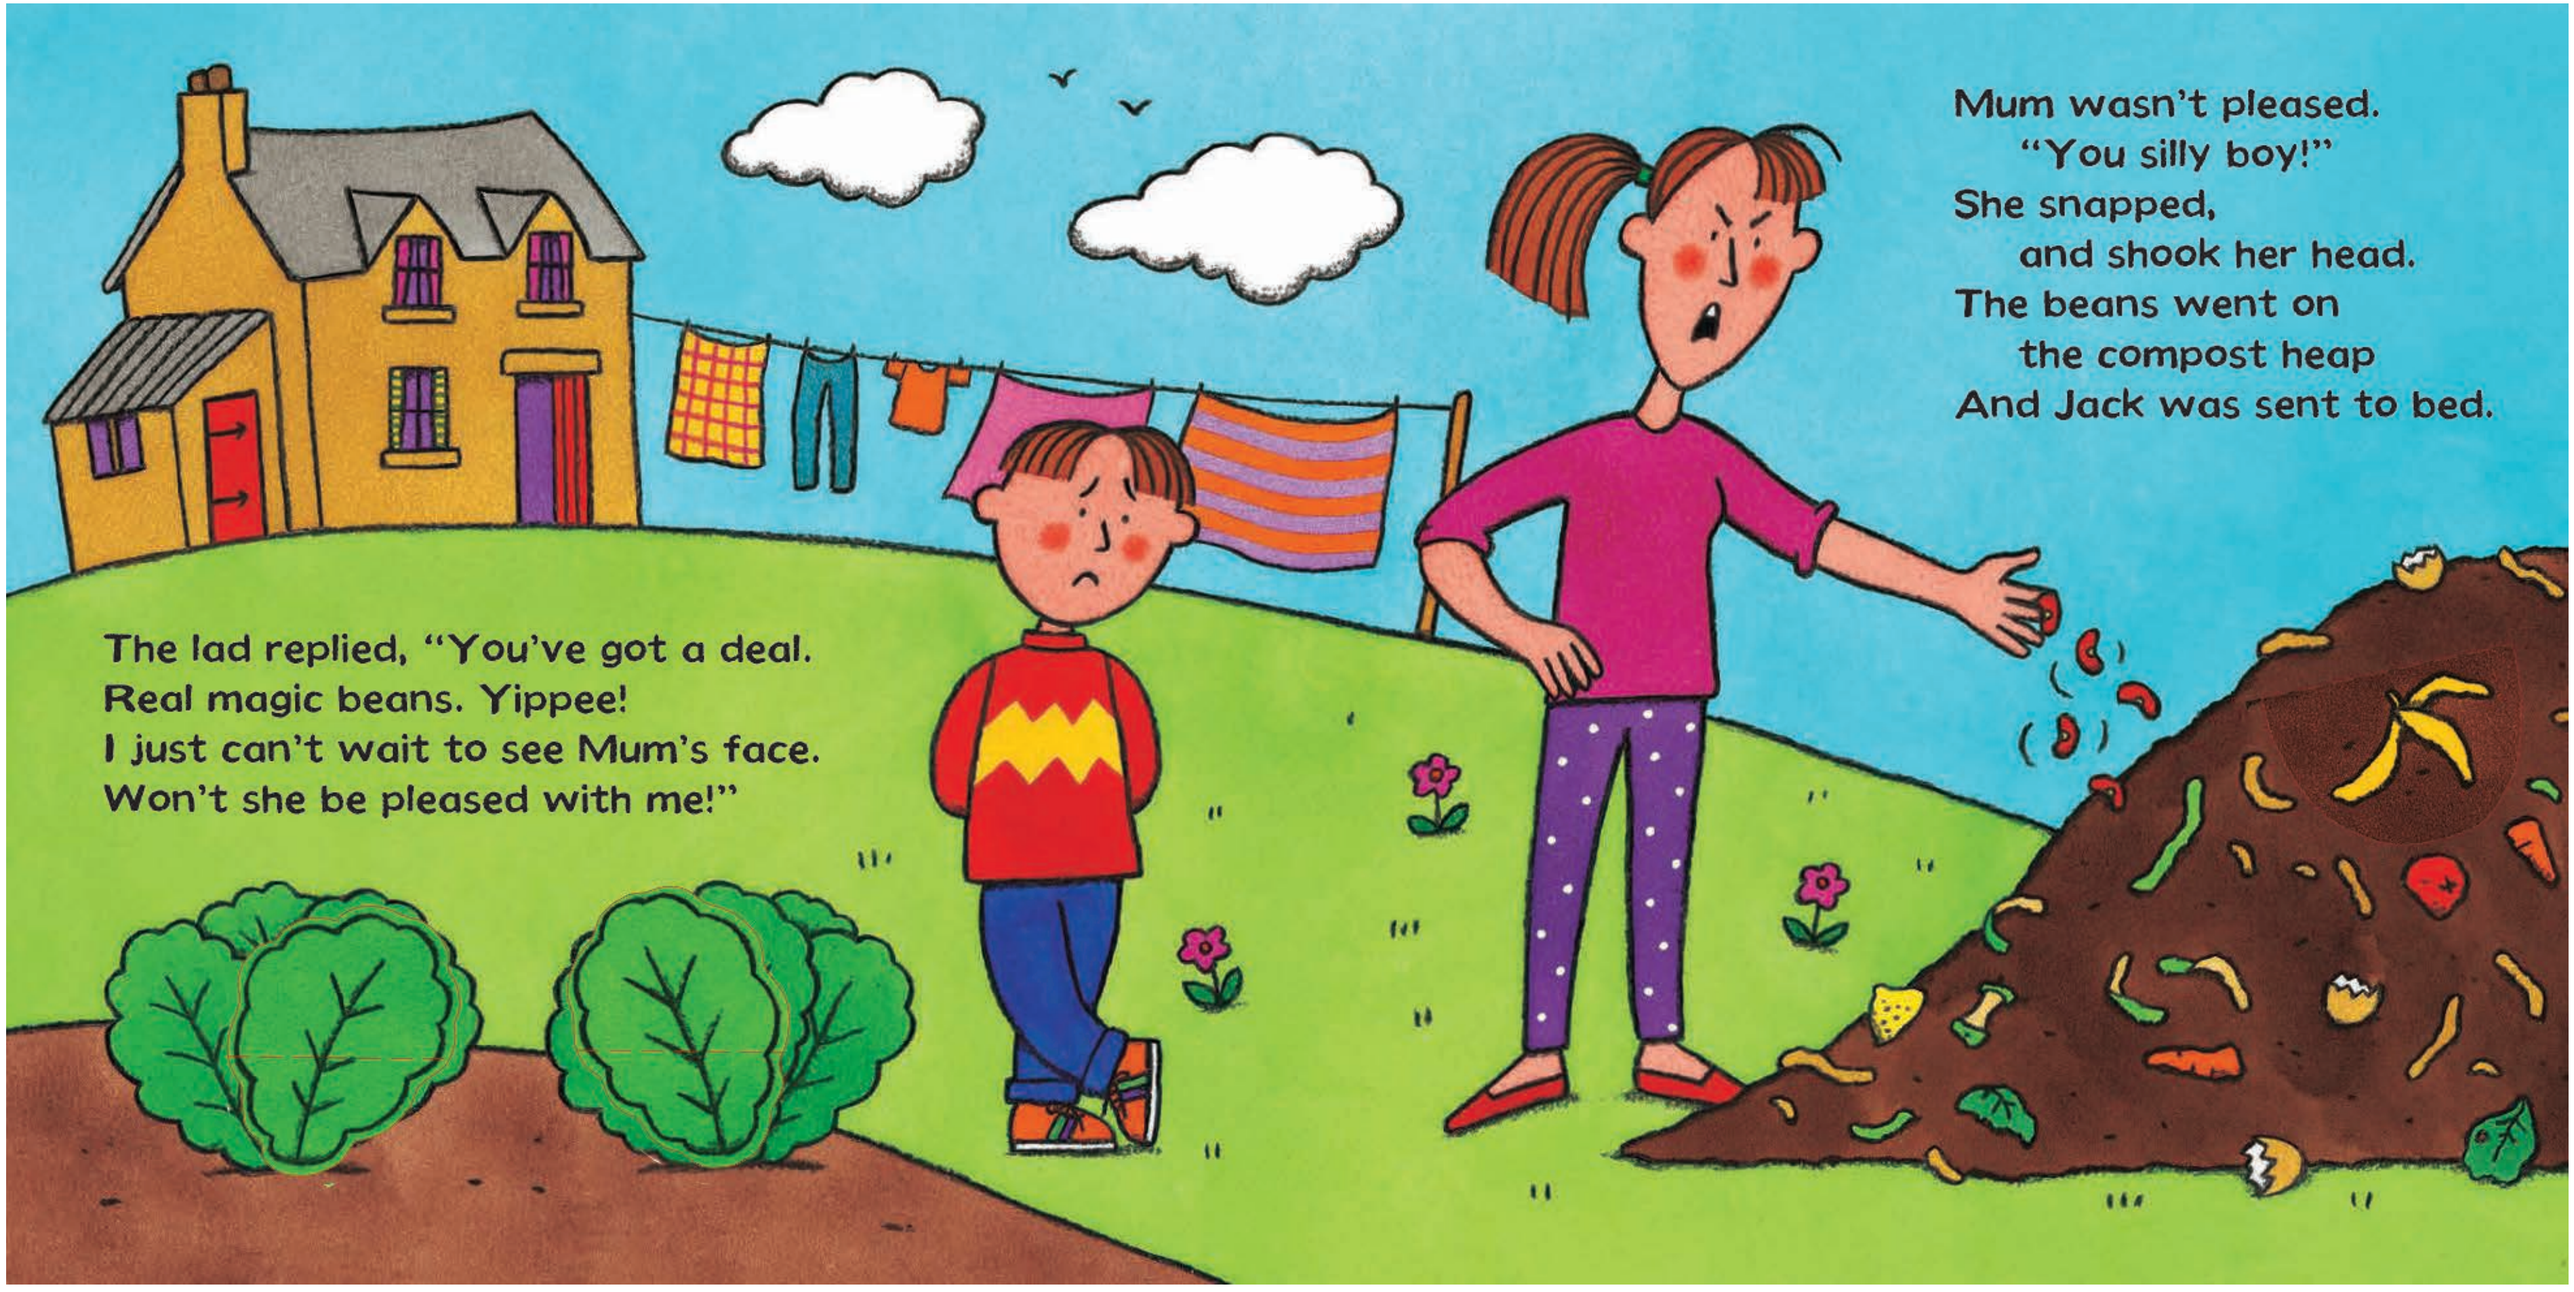

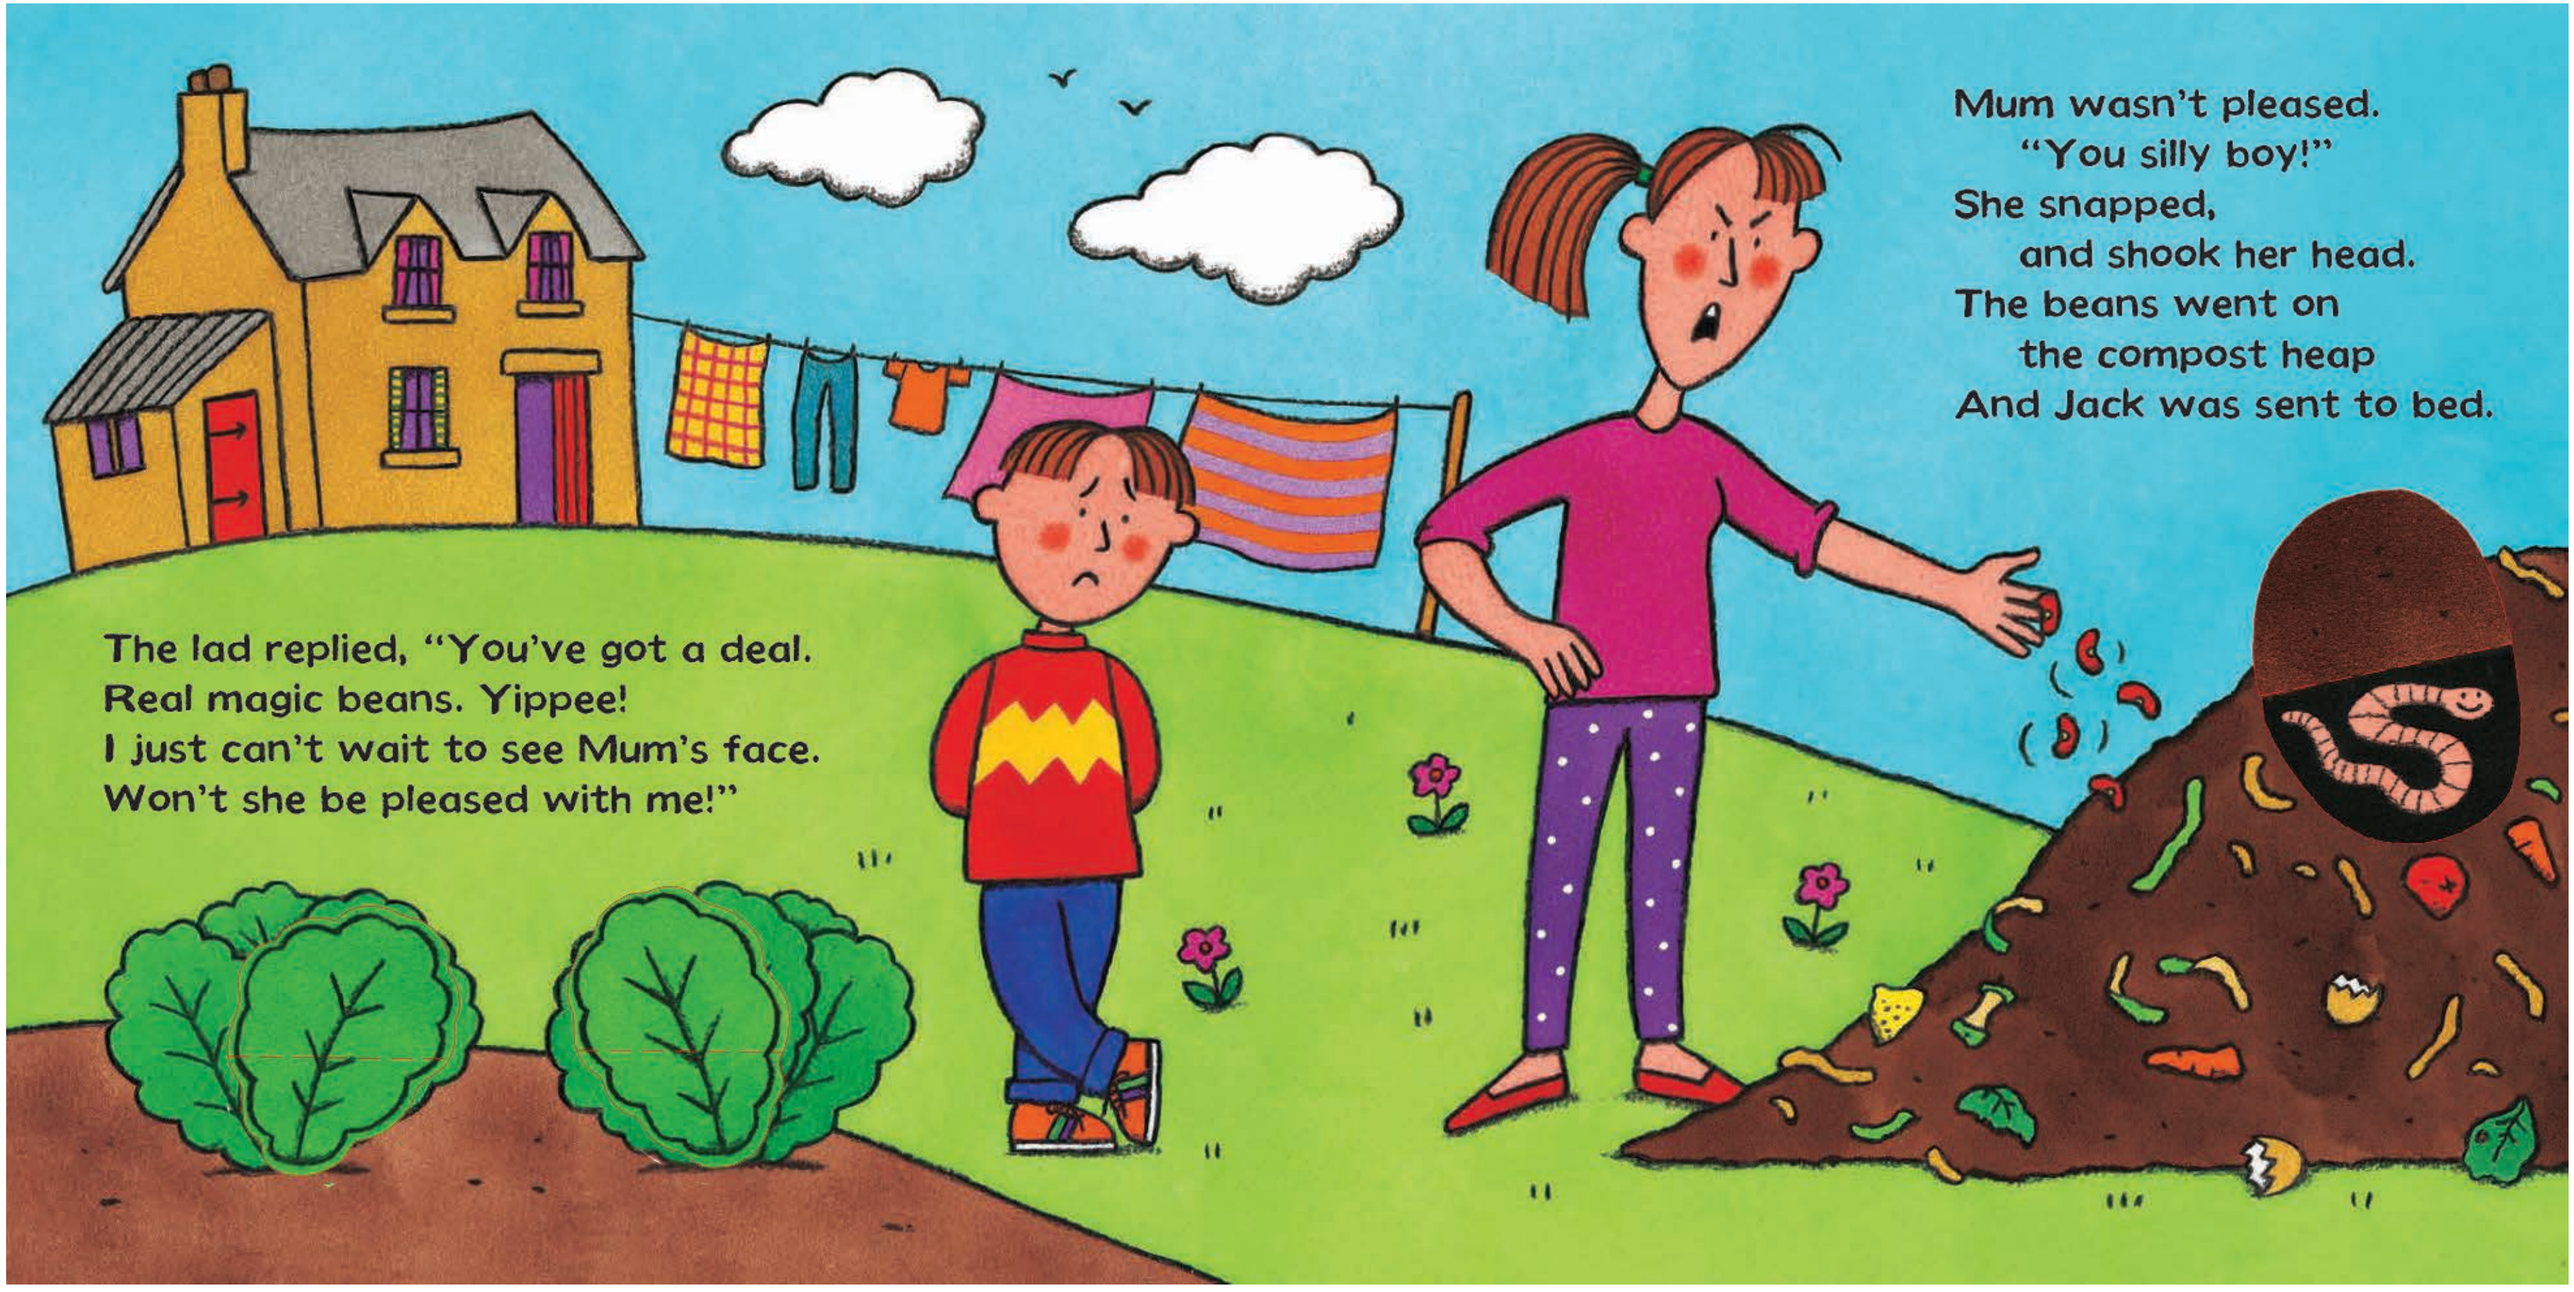

Nick Sharratt Stephen Tucker

MACMILLAN CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Jack and his mum were really poor
And things had got so bad
That now they had to sell their cow,
Which made Jack very sad.
He had got halfway
to market
When a man said,
"Stop, my boy!
I'll swap your cow
for magic beans.
They'll bring you
lots of joy."
Market
5 miles
→

Jack and his mum were really poor
And things had got so bad
That now they had to sell their cow,
Which made Jack very sad.
He had got halfway
to market
When a man said,
"Stop, my boy!
I'll swap your cow
for magic beans.
They'll bring you
lots of joy."

The lad replied, "You've got a deal.
Real magic beans. Yippee!
I just can't wait to see Mum's face.
Won't she be pleased with me!"
Mum wasn't pleased.
"You silly boy!"
She snapped,
and shook her head.
The beans went on
the compost heap
And Jack was sent to bed.

Mum wasn't pleased.
"You silly boy!"
She snapped,
and shook her head.
The beans went on
the compost heap
And Jack was sent to bed.
The lad replied, "You've got a deal.
Real magic beans. Yippee!
I just can't wait to see Mum's face.
Won't she be pleased with me!"