
extracts from

The Seeds of Friendship

Written & Illustrated by

Michael Foreman

Published by

Walker Books Ltd

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Lovereading4kids.co.uk

But Adam missed the faraway place where he used to live. Every evening he asked his Mum and Dad to read him stories that brought back memories of thier old home faraway.

Adam drew pictures to go with the stories and pinned them on his bedroom wall.

Adam touched the snow. It was light and wet and cold all at once. He started to build a snow elephant.

"That's a bit small for an elephant!" one of the children said with a laugh. "Let's make a big one." Then they threw a snowball at him. Adam laughed.