

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

Opening extract from

Alice's Adventures in Wonderland Carousel Book

Based upon the original book written by

Lewis Carroll

And illustrated by

Sir John Tenniel

Published by

Macmillan Children's Books

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Lovereading4kids.co.uk

At the Court the King and Queen were on a throne surrounded by a great crowd. The Knave of Hearts was accused of stealing the Queen's tarts. Alice grew bigger and knocked over the jury box. "Off with her head!" shouted the angry Queen.

On the shore Alice met a Dodo who said, "We must have a race to get dry." He gave Alice a thimble for a prize. The White Rabbit told Alice to fetch his gloves. Alice ran to his house, but after drinking from a little bottle, she grew too big to get out.

The animals sent Bill the lizard down the chimney, but Alice kicked him out. She ate some little cakes that made her small enough to run into the garden, where she met a great big puppy that wanted to play. Alice held out a stick for him.

At the Court the King and Queen were on a throne surrounded by a great crowd. The Knave of Hearts was accused of stealing the Queen's tarts. Alice grew bigger and knocked over the jury box. "Off with her head!" shouted the angry Queen.

"You're only a pack of cards," cried Alice. The cards rose into the air and flew at her. She gave a little scream and was beating them off when... she found herself waking up on a riverbank with her sister. "What a curious dream!" said Alice.

On the shore Alice met a Dodo who said, "We must have a race to get dry." He gave Alice a thimble for a prize. The White Rabbit told Alice to fetch his gloves. Alice ran to his house, but after drinking from a little bottle, she grew too big to get out.

The animals sent Bill the lizard down the chimney, but Alice kicked him out. She ate some little cakes that made her small enough to run into the garden, where she met a great big puppy that wanted to play. Alice held out a stick for him.