For Stephen Blackburn – one of the finest,
kindest humans on the planet

'School Library' is for the marvellous Mrs P and everyone
at the rather wonderful Falkland Primary School in Newbury,

'Five Ways To Cross The River' is for Down-Under-David,

'So You Want To Build A Bear...' is for Yukon John,

'Baby Ukulele' is for Chris and Daisy,

'What Is It?' is for Ardingly College
(and their uber-librarian Denise Reed),

'A Hill' is for Sarah, Lauren and Madeleine.

And more than thanks to Ed Boxall
for bringing so much of his magic to this book.

SPACE CADET

A dreamer?
Me? Err, you bet, the world's greatest space cadet!
I'm alien in human form. Some distant planet I was born. Although these feet are on the ground*, my head*
is firmly in a cloud*.* A dolly daydream
you might say, my mind is always miles away, cruisin' 'round the Milky Way –
or maybe further, sure is far, for all
I hear is blah blah blah*.*
Me? I've been like this
since birth…

ARE YOU LISTENING

PLANET EARTH?!?

THE MOUSE THAT FELL TO EARTH

(HAIKU)

A grey mouse, still warm,
but limp and newly lifeless,
lies on the back lawn.

A red kite swoops, squeals,
screeches angrily above,
having dropped its meal.

A black cat arrives,
grabs the gift between its teeth;
leaves, eats in private.

SID

You've never met a cat
quite like Sid. He's a brute.
He's a bruiser. He's a bully, he is,
that cat from two doors down.

Sid Vicious I call him.
You should see the way
he terrifies and torments
our kittens. He's fearless.
He'd take the kill from an eagle,
the carrion from a crow.
If he was human, he'd be forever behind bars.

When he walks, he doesn't slink
as much as plod and stomp.
He breathes heavy.
He snarls. He scowls.

And don't you be fooled by those delicate whiskers, those pretty white mittens. Check out those eyes. Deeper than an old well. Greener
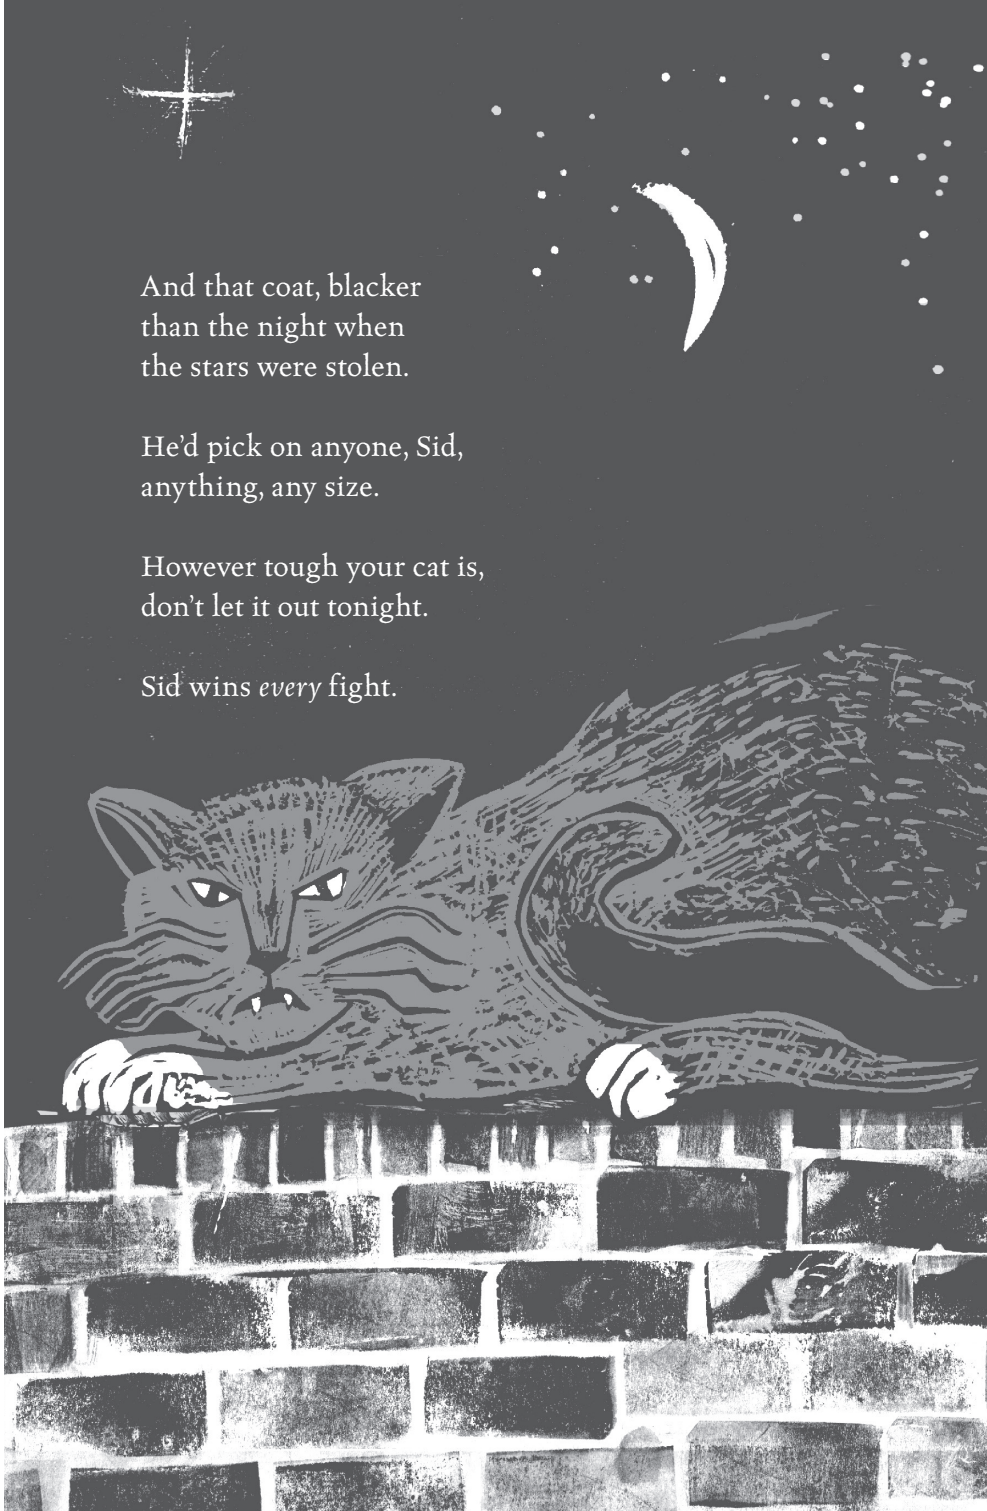
than a witch's brew.



And that coat, blacker
than the night when
the stars were stolen.

He'd pick on anyone, Sid,
anything, any size.

However tough your cat is,
don't let it out tonight.

Sid wins every fight.
