And a FEW of those people?
They're rocket scientists.

Rocket scientists who don't just build rocket ships — they also play
the saxophone, tambourine,
trumpet, and lute!

So what happens next?

BUILDING IT.

Out of soda cans and glue and string and umbrellas and glitter and waffles.

I'm not really qualified to build a spaceship. . . .

But it does smell
like waffles!
So that's nice.
