Frog shared the river with his friends the ducks and their ducklings, the water voles and their baby water voles.

Everyone lived happily together. It was perfect.

Then one day, a young beaver came swimming down the river.
"Hello, little fella," said the beaver. "I'm Beaver!"
"Hello, Friend." said Frog.

"I'm looking for a place to build my first dam," said Beaver.
"It's going to be the biggest and best dam you've ever seen!"
"Well, this is a great place to live," said Frog. "You'll love it here."
"Wonderful!" said Beaver. "I'll get chewing."
