

extracts from

The Perfect Guest

Written & Illustrated by

Paula Metcalf

Published by

Walker Books Ltd

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

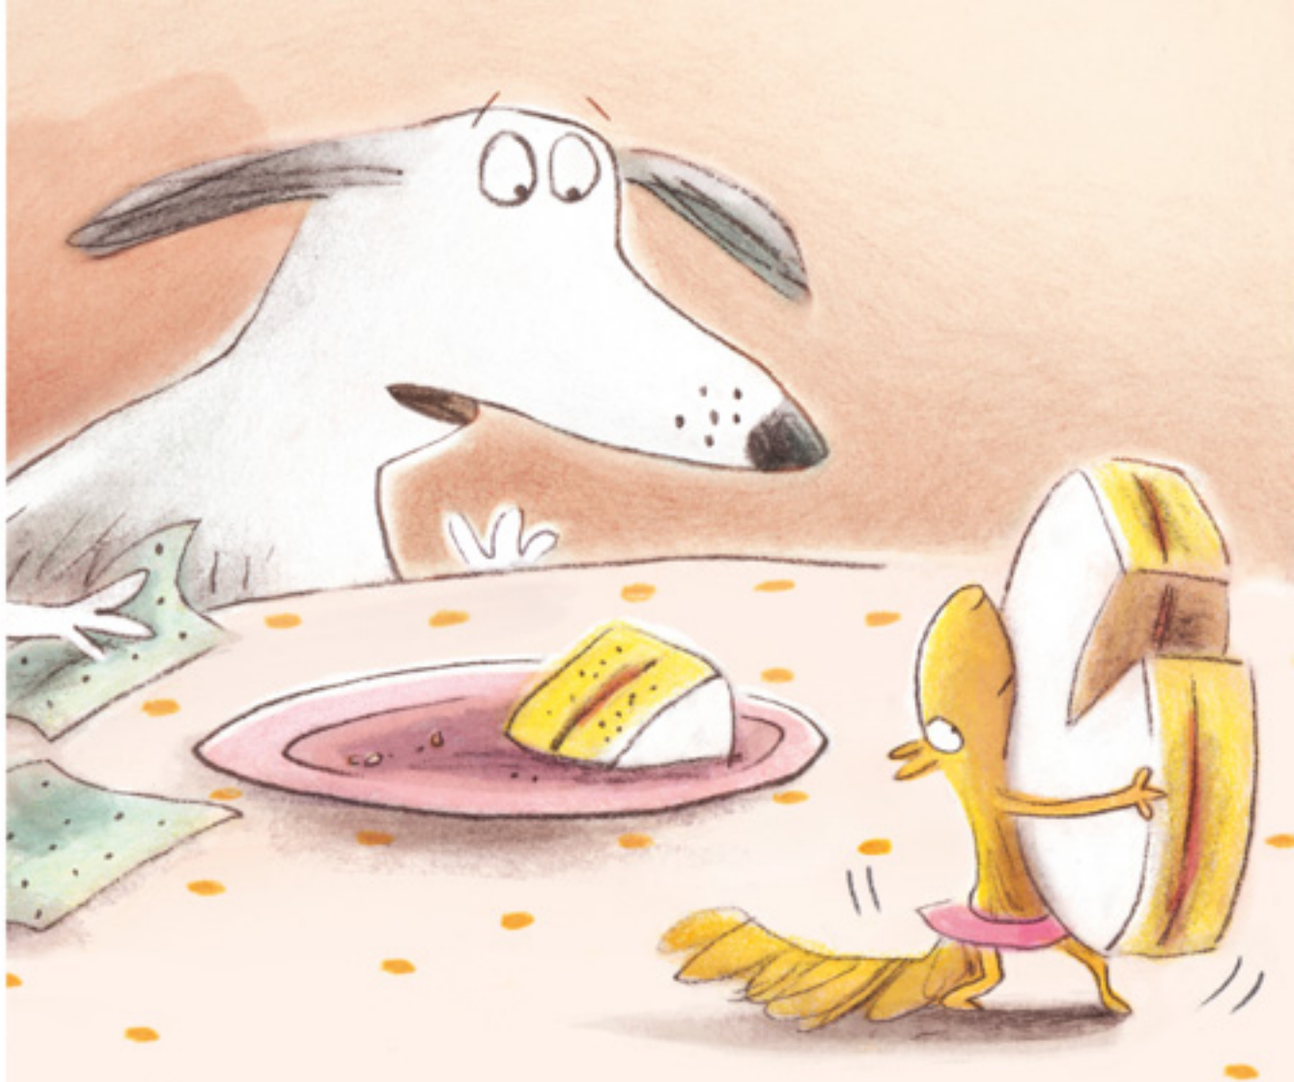

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Lovereading4kids.co.uk

At times like this, only one thing could help.
"I need chocolate," muttered Walter. But when he opened the box … his face dropped. "I don't understand!" he said. "These were brand NEW!"

Pansy began to feel a little hot around the whiskers.
"Erm … maybe it's one of those boxes that comes with free holders?" she suggested. "You know, to keep spare chocolates in?"

"We'll have to have cake instead," sighed Walter.
"Would you like some, Pansy?"
"Yes please!" she replied and took a slice.

It was a new day and Walter was eager to show off his new trousers. He did a little stretch and looked out at the glorious sunshine through the trouser-shaped hole in his curtains...

"I've ALWAYS wanted a sailing boat!"
said Walter.
"Thank you so much Pansy,
you're the most PERFECT GUEST ...