The Smartest GIANT in Town

MACMILLAN CHILDREN'S BOOKS

George was a giant, the scruffiest giant in town.
He always wore the same pair of old brown sandals
and the same old patched-up gown.

“I wish I wasn’t the scruffiest giant in town,”
he said sadly.

But one day, George noticed a new shop.
It was full of smart clothes. So he bought . . .

a smart shirt,

a smart pair of trousers,

a smart belt,

a smart stripy tie,

some smart socks
with diamonds up the sides,

and a pair of
smart shiny shoes.

“Now I’m the smartest giant in town,” he said proudly.

George left his old clothes
behind in the shop.
He was about to go home
when he heard a sound.

On the pavement stood a giraffe who was sniffing sadly.
“What’s the matter?” asked George.

“It’s my neck,” said the giraffe. “It’s so very long and so very cold.
I wish I had a long, warm scarf!”
