

Opening extract from

Dinosaur Stomp! The Triceratops

Written by

Jeanne Willis

Published by

Macmillan Children's Books an imprint of Pan Macmillan

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Meet Dinosaur Stomp!

Stomp is a Triceratops, which is pronounced Tri-SERRA-tops

Also in this story

Dinosaur Honk,
the Parasaurolophus
Pa-ra-saw-ROL-off-us

Dinosaur Bash,
the Ankylosaurus
An-KIE-loh-SORE-us

Dinosaur Whizz,
the Coelophysis
SEEL-OH-fie-sis

Dinosaur Squeak,
the Compsognathus
Komp-sog-NATH-thus

DINOSAUR STOMP!

The Triceratops

MACMILLAN CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Deep in the rainforest,
far from the swamp
Lived a grumpy Triceratops,
Dinosaur Stomp.

He wasn't a creature who wanted to play,

If anyone tried he would chase them away.

Dinosaur Honk was too noisy by far,

The Parasaurolophus
honked
like a car!

Stomp lowered the horns on his huge frilly head
And charged like a rhino at Honk 'til she fled.