Little Princess

I Want Snow!

Tony Ross

Andersen Press

It was the summer holidays and the Little Princess was having a picnic in the garden with the King.

The Queen was away counting penguins at the South Pole.
It was so nice at the South Pole that she sent a postcard home.