High in the mountains,
far, far away, lived Erik the wolf cub,
and the rest of the wolf pack.

The wolf pack did everything together...

which could be a bit frustrating for a young cub.

"Erik! Don't climb that high!"

"Erik! Hold your sister's paw!'

“Erik!

Don’t go so fast!”

“Erik–”

“The mountains are full of danger.
That’s why the pack always sticks together!”

Erik felt more and more crowded
by the pack and their silly rules.

Erik had had enough.

"That's it!" he muttered to himself,
"I'm going to be a lone wolf!"

And when no one was looking, he walked away...
