

BUG HOTEL

A lift-the-flap book of discovery

A bug hotel is a multi-storey homemade habitat where creepy-crawlies of all shapes and sizes can find a place to stay!

Made from natural materials such as straw, wood and stone, bug hotels can even be built in your own back garden!

Let's see who's checked into The Bug Hotel today...

Bees are very important.
They carry pollen from flower to flower,
which helps more plants to grow.

This process is called pollination and without it our flowers, plants and food supplies would suffer.

Now it's your turn!

If you want to build your own bug hotel, please remember to ask an adult for help.

Here's a list of all the materials you will need:

TWIGS and STICKS
for spiders

ROCKS and TILES
for snails

BAMBOO CANES
for solitary bees

OLD WOOD
for beetles

HAY and STRAW
for ladybirds

To make your garden more bug-friendly, you could have:

A bug hotel, of course! A home for all sorts of insects

Full flower beds will attract butterflies and bees

Dead-wood areas are great for beetles and ladybirds
