

The illustration depicts a fantastical cityscape at night. The buildings are rendered in a stylized, geometric manner with various colors like red, orange, yellow, and blue. The sky is dark blue with numerous colorful paper stars and lanterns hanging from above. A girl with long red hair, wearing a yellow jacket and a red hat, is riding a blue reindeer. The reindeer is also decorated with colorful patterns. A small orange cat is visible on a rooftop in the foreground. The overall style is whimsical and festive, reminiscent of a holiday-themed storybook.

"I'll come back when I'm older," she promised a cat on a moonlit rooftop. "But I must see my daddy first!"
