

Helping you choose books for children

0-5

5-7

7-9

9-12

12+

opening extract from

Fergus In the Park

written by

Tony Maddox

published by

Piccadilly Press

All text is copyright of the author and illustrator

please print off and read at your leisure.

Dedicated to Cannon Hill Park, Birmingham, where as a child I enjoyed many happy family outings.

First published in Great Britain in 2006
by Piccadilly Press Ltd,
5 Castle Road, London NW1 8PR
www.piccadillypress.co.uk

Text and illustrations copyright © Tony Maddox, 2006

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying or otherwise, without prior permission of the copyright owner.

The right of Tony Maddox to be recognised as Author and Illustrator of this work has been asserted by him in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.

Designed by Tony Maddox and Simon Davis

Printed and bound in China by WKT
Colour reproduction by Dot Gradations Ltd, UK

ISBN: 1 85340 854 9 (hardback)
EAN: 9 781853 408540
1 85340 859 X (paperback)
EAN: 9 781853 408595

1 3 5 7 9 10 8 6 4 2

A catalogue record of this book is available from the British Library

Tony Maddox

Piccadilly • London

A man with brown hair, wearing a brown jacket over a white shirt and brown trousers, is walking a golden retriever on a leash. They are on a light-colored stone sidewalk that curves to the right. In the background, there is a green fence and some trees.

Fergus was waiting in the truck for Farmer Bob.
It was a warm, sunny day.

A woman with short orange hair, wearing a yellow shirt and an orange skirt, is walking a young girl with brown hair in a red bow, wearing a purple shirt and a red skirt. They are walking away from the viewer on a light-colored stone path. In the background, there are several small birds on the path and a flower bed with red and orange flowers.

He could see the park across the street.
It looked cool and inviting.

He knew he should stay in the truck, but the park was too tempting.
He jumped down and went to take a look.

