Every National Geographic Kids Reader is carefully selected to match your child's reading ability.

Level 1 • Early reader

Level 1 These books contain simple sentences and are just right for kids who can decode with ease and are beginning to read fluently. They are ideal for readers of Yellow and Blue banded books.

Level 2 • Becoming fluent

Level 2 These books are a good match for kids who are developing reading stamina and enjoy a longer book. They are ideal for readers of Green, Orange and Turquoise banded books.

Level 3 • Becoming independent

Level 3 Best suited to kids who are ready for complex sentences and more challenging vocabulary, but still draw on occasional support from adults. They are ideal for readers of Purple and Gold banded books.

Level 4 • Independent reader

Level 4 Perfect for kids who are reading on their own with ease and are ready for more challenging vocabulary with varied sentence structures. They are ideal for readers of White and Lime banded books.

'Banded books' refers to the Institute of Education (University of London) Book Bands for guided reading.

Who was Amelia Earhart?

Words to Know

 PILOT: A person who flies an aeroplane

Aeroplanes were new in the 1920s.
People mostly travelled by car or boat or train. But Amelia Earhart dreamed of flying.

Amelia was one of the first women pilots. She was known all over the world. She did many things women had never done before.

Growing Up

The house where Amelia was born

Amelia Mary Earhart was born on July 24, 1897.

She grew up in the state of Kansas in the USA.

She loved playing with her sister, Muriel. Together they played sports, went fishing and collected insects. They also enjoyed reading.

Back then girls wore long dresses. But Amelia's mother made them playsuits. Then they could run and play like the boys.

In Her Own Words

"I believe that women have as much courage as men."

Amelia's family moved a lot. She went to many different schools. Luckily, Amelia made friends easily, and she enjoyed making people laugh.

When Amelia grew up, she worked as a nurse. Later, she worked at a centre that helped poor children. The children loved her.

Amelia loved to help people.

A Love of Flying

When Amelia was 23, her father took her to an air show. She took a short ride in an aeroplane that day, and she fell in love with flying.

In Her Own Words

“As soon as we left the ground, I knew I myself had to fly.”
