
Turtledove was a town much like any other,
except for one small difference...
it was FULL of birds and bird-spotters.
And the most famous spotters were a family named Blotter.

Hidden in the bushes,
all alone, sat the most unusual little BIRD.