Dedication to follow

N.H

Text and illustrations copyright © Naomi Howarth 2019

First published in Great Britain and in the USA in 2019 by Otter-Barry Books, Little Orchard, Burley Gate, Herefordshire, HR1 3QS
www.otterbarrybooks.com

All rights reserved

No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form, or by any means, electrical, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise without the prior written permission of the publisher or a licence permitting restricted copying. In the United Kingdom such licences are issued by the Copyright Licensing Agency, Barnard's Inn, 86 Fetter Lane, London EC4A 1EN
A catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library.

ISBN 978-1-910959-70-1

Illustrated with watercolour

Set in Big Calson

Printed in China

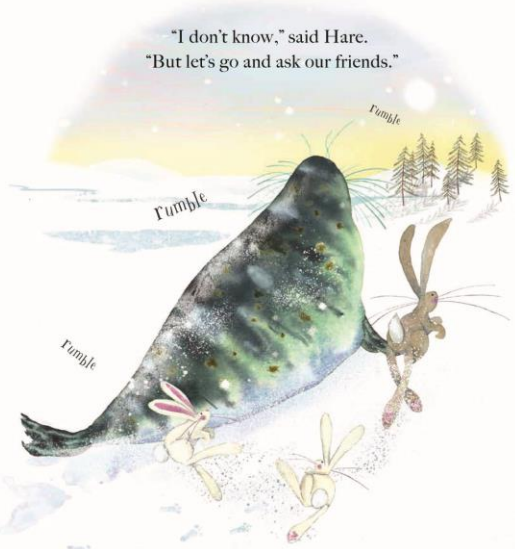

9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

"Hello, Hare!" said Magnus.
"Can you help me? What's that noise?"

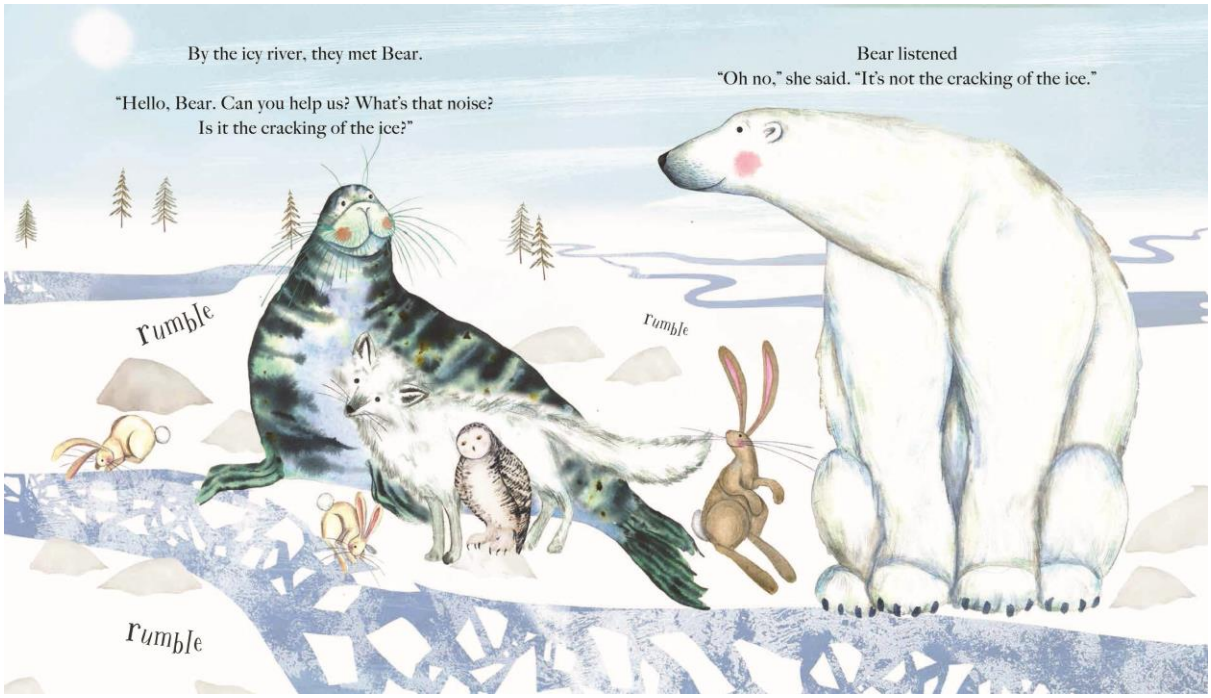

Hare listened...

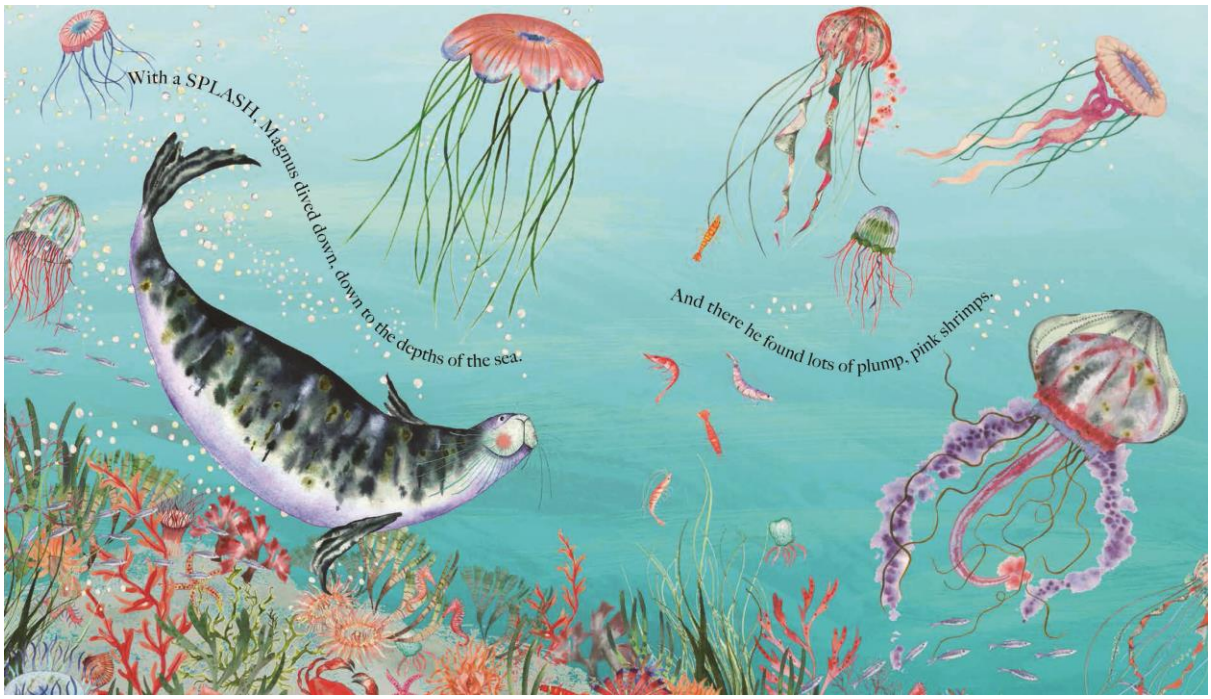

"I don't know," said Hare.
"But let's go and ask our friends."

So Magnus and Hare set off over the ice,
and all the while the rumbling sound followed them.

By the icy river, they met Bear.
"Hello, Bear. Can you help us? What's that noise?
Is it the cracking of the ice?"
Bear listened
"Oh no," she said. "It's not the cracking of the ice."
rumble
rumble
rumble

With a SPLASH, Magnus dived down, down to the depths of the sea.
And there he found lots of plump, pink shrimps.