Jeremy is a worrier.
He worries about EVERYTHING – runaway dinosaurs, evil squirrels, spotty bananas and, most of all, the WIND.

Then Jeremy meets Maggie, who's not scared of anything. But when Maggie wants to play outside on a WINDY day . . . the wind whisks Jeremy away!

Will his adventures with SLED DOGS, PIRATES and MAGICAL FLYING MACHINES convince Jeremy to face his fears . . . and live a little?

JEREMY WORRIED ABOUT THE WIND

Pamela Butchart & Kate Hindley

nosy crow

Jeremy was a worrier.
He worried about everything.

He worried about . . .
odd socks,

shoe-eating worms,

too-crunchy crackers,

runaway dinosaurs,

burnt toast

and evil squirrels (Jeremy was VERY worried about squirrels).

He also worried about what would happen if the zipper on his Big Coat got stuck. It happened once.

So Jeremy never risked using the zipper and was always EXTRA CAREFUL.

Jeremy worried about what would happen if he ate a spotty banana.

So he stopped eating bananas (even though bananas were his favourite).

Jeremy worried about what would happen if his shoelaces came undone. THAT could lead to SERIOUS DANGER.

So Jeremy took the laces out of all of his shoes.

But Jeremy's biggest worry wasn't spotty bananas OR runaway dinosaurs OR EVEN evil squirrels!

It was . . .

. . . the WIND.

Jeremy was VERY worried about the wind.
