Lovereading4kids.co.uk

Helping you choose books for children

0-5 5-7 7-9 9-12 12+

opening extract from

Princess Poppy: Poppy's Secret Christmas

written by

Janey Louise Jones

published by

Random House Children's Books

All text is copyright of the author and illustrator

please print off and read at your leisure.

Princess Poppy

Poppy's Secret Christmas

Written by Janey Louise Jones

PICTURE CORGI

It was Christmas Eve in Honeypot Hill. Poppy and her best friend Honey were making pretty cards for all their friends and family.

Mum smiled as she dashed past them. She was really busy making food and her special mulled wine for the village party that night.

"Poppy, why don't we surprise your mum and dad? We could make some things – in secret!" suggested Honey.

"Good idea!" said Poppy. "Let's deliver the cards, and maybe we can get some ideas for our surprises from Saffron and Granny Bumble."

It was Christmas Eve in Honeypot Hill. Poppy and her best friend Honey were making pretty cards for all their friends and family.

Mum smiled as she dashed past them. She was really busy making food and her special mulled wine for the village party that night.

"Poppy, why don't w… mum and dad? We could make some things …oney.

"Good … er the cards, and maybe we can get some id… …fron an… …umble."

