

Helping you choose books for children

0-5

5-7

7-9

9-12

12+

Opening extract from
That Rabbit Belongs to Emily Brown

Written by
Cressida Cowell

Illustrated by Neal Layton

Published by Simon & Schuster

All text is copyright of the author and illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

THAT RABBIT BELONGS TO EMILY BROWN

Once upon a time,
there was a little girl called Emily Brown
and an old grey rabbit called Stanley.

One day, Emily Brown and Stanley were just launching themselves into Outer Space to look for alien life forms, when there was a Rat-a-tat-tat! at the kitchen door.

It was the Chief Footman to the Queen.
He said,

"The Queen has
very kindly noticed your rabbit.
She would like to have that Bunnywunny.
In return, she offers this brand-new golden teddy bear."

Emily Brown looked at the Queen's teddy bear.
It was stiff and new and gold and horrible.
It had staring eyes and no smile at all.

"No thank you," said Emily Brown. "This rabbit is NOT for sale.
And his name isn't Bunnywunny. It's STANLEY."

And Emily Brown shut the door politely.

