

Amelia's Granny was forgetful.

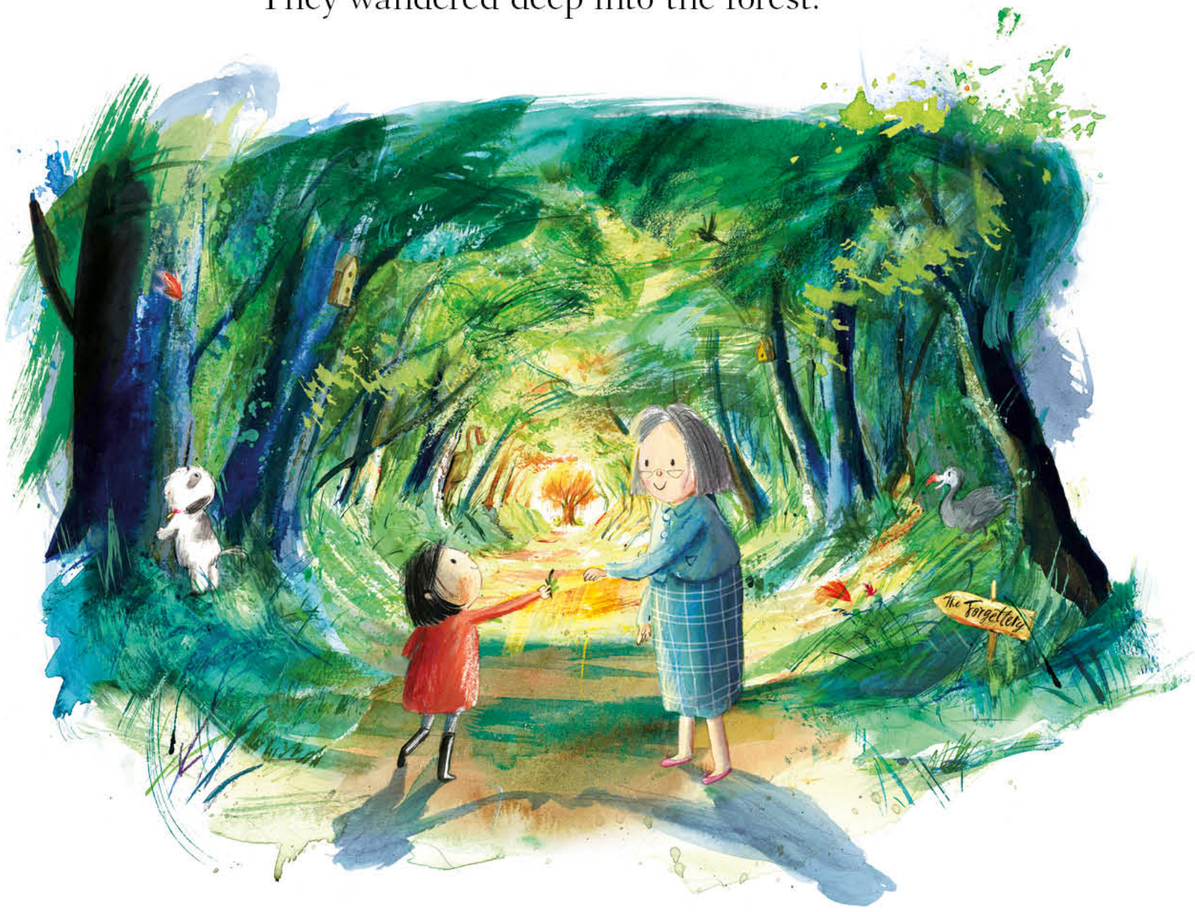

Sometimes she forgot little things. Like where she'd put the marmalade or which drawer she kept her socks in.

Sometimes she forgot important things like special memories and moments.

Amelia was forgetful too, because she was very busy daydreaming and exploring.

One day, Amelia and Granny were both so busy exploring that they completely forgot to go home for dinner.

They wandered deep into the forest.

And that's when they found The Forgettery.

"What is this place?" said Amelia.
"What's a Forgettery?"

"Let's find out!" said Granny.
