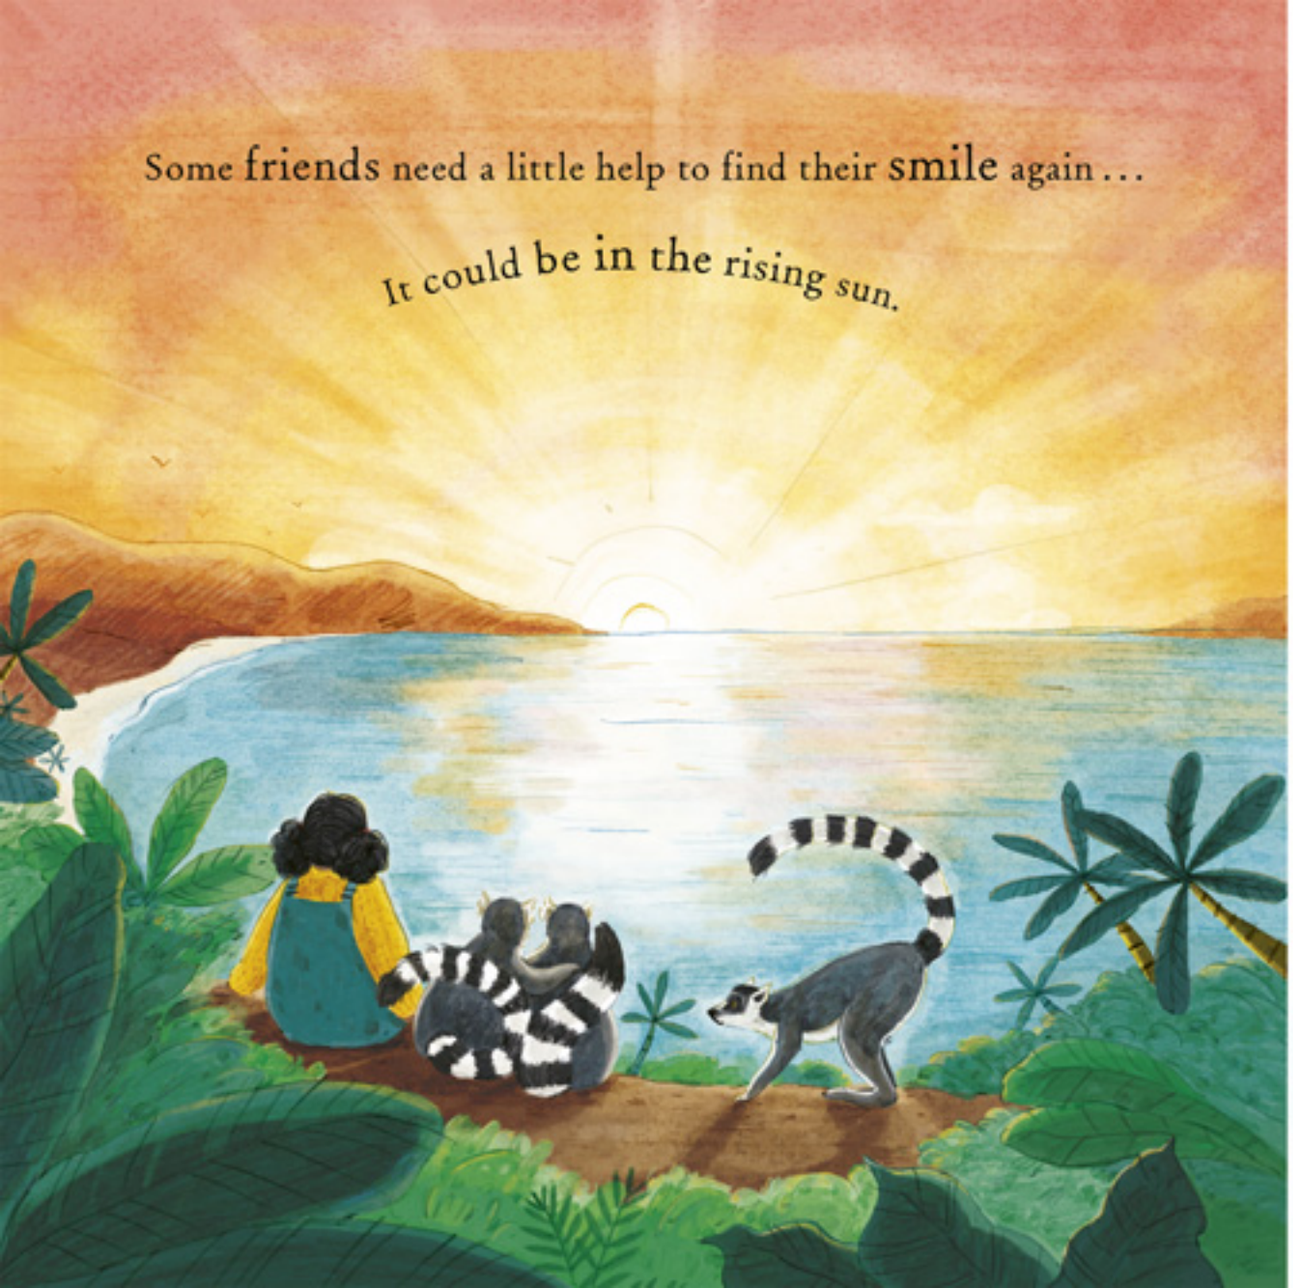
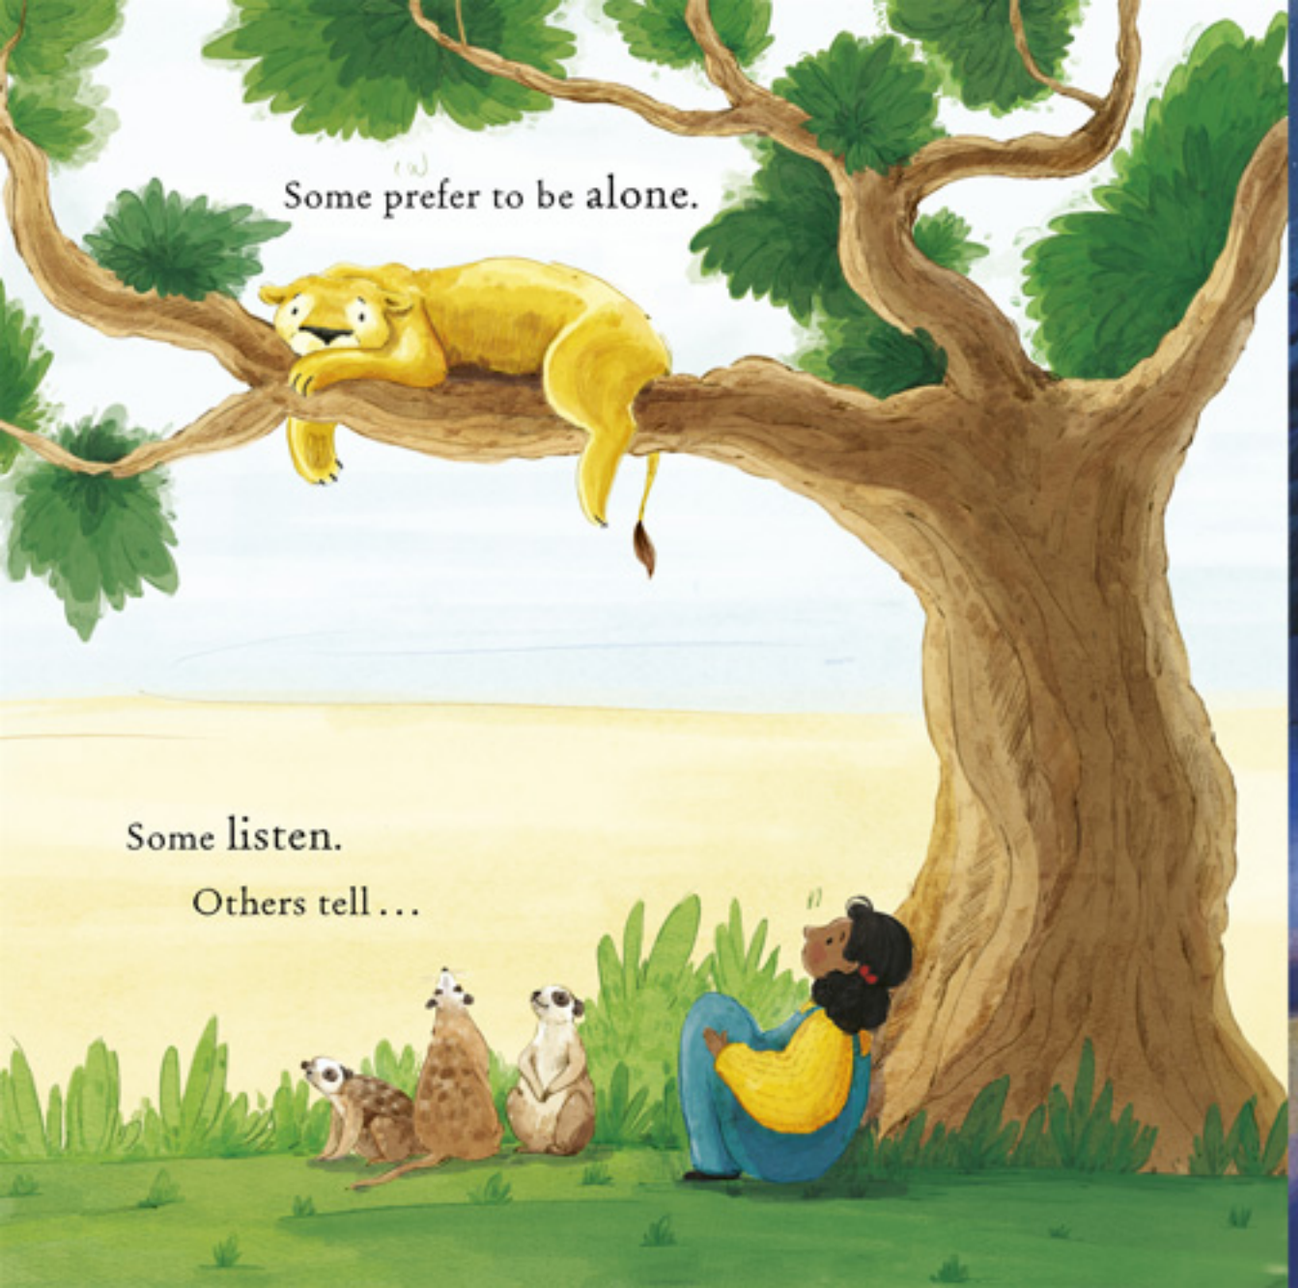
Some friends need a little help to find their smile again . . .

It could be in the rising sun.



It might be in the rain.



Some prefer to be alone.
Some listen.
Others tell . . .

. . . the most
adventurous stories
of the times
that went before!
Some friends may not want to talk about them anymore.

Some friends like
to read a book,

and some friends
like a bath.

Some just want to watch TV,

while others need
to laugh.

Some friends need a great big hug

to help them feel well.
