

A hunter was tracking a tiger so large,
he could not believe his eyes.
He wanted to catch it for its lovely soft skin,
which really wasn't so wise.

He saw the tiger climb up the tree,
perhaps it was trying to hide.
So the hunter moved through the forest so thick
until he reached the far side.

The monkey heard the bang from the gun
and jumped from the top of the tree.
He landed amongst an incredible pile,
and bit the hunter's knee.

...each in his own funny way.
