PENGWEE'S BREATH

By Debbie Nutley
Illustrations by Alexandra Rusu

PENGWEE'S
BREATH
By Debbie Nutley
Illustrations by Alexandra Rusu

Copyright © 2021 by Debbie Nutley

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, distributed or transmitted in any form or by any means, including photocopying, recording or other electronic or mechanical methods, without the prior written permission of the publisher, except in the case of brief quotations embodied in reviews and certain other non-commercial uses permitted by copyright law.

Printed in the United States of America

ISBN 978-1-7377479-0-1 (hardcover)
ISBN 978-1-7377479-1-8 (paperback)
ISBN 978-1-7377479-2-5 (ebook)

Purple Green Press LLC
Chicago, Illinois

Penguin families across the world traveled to the annual Ice Festival.

Pengwee cleaned his feathers so he'd be ready to go.
He loved everything about the festival — well, almost everything.

“What rides do you think will be at the Ice Festival?” Mom asked, giving Pengwee a peck.

“I hope they have the Ice Chopper!” Pengwee replied.
“But no big scary rides. Just thinking about scary things makes me feel bad — like there’s a snowstorm in my tummy and clouds in my head.”

