Maya's Walk

Written by

Moira Butterfield

Illustrated by

Kim Geyer

OXFORD

UNIVERSITY PRESS

We love walking.

Which walk will we choose today?

Are we ready?

Let's go!

We can look for tiny secrets . . .

A hole a caterpillar made by munching on a juicy leaf.

Busy ants scurrying past.
Where are you going, little ants?

Baby plants sprouting up.
Good luck, plants.
Grow BIG and Strong!

We can feel things with our fingers . . .

A round pebble that's smooth and cool,
like an egg that's made of stone.

