

THE WORRY JAR

Written by Lou John Illustrated by Jenny Bloomfield

Written by Lou John

Illustrated by Jenny Bloomfield

THE WORRY JAR

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

Frida worried every day.
Big worries,
little worries,
all-the-time worries.

Her worries felt heavy, just like the pebbles she collected.

Frida picked up pebbles
everywhere she went –
one for every worry.

Before school, Frida worried about the weather.

Would it rain?

Or maybe it would be too sunny?

Should she wear her wellies or her sunhat?

