The sun was up and so was SuperJoe.

You don't have time to hang around if you're a superhero, you know.
There's always something to do.

SuperJoe had some invading space aliens to deal with. And not for the first time.
SuperJoe used his anti-gravity device to leap high into the air and stop the alien spacecraft in its tracks.
He soon sent it packing to the far side of the galaxy.
Then SuperJoe landed back on Earth.
