

Elmer the patchwork elephant is on his evening walk. It's almost bedtime, so the other animals are settling down with their teddies.

The sky is dark when Elmer hears Baby Elephant crying. "He can't sleep because his teddy is lost," says his mother.
"I'll lend him mine," says Elmer, "while I look for the lost one."