Greetings, Earthling!

It's me again—Novo, the space robot
from the planet Infinita.

Monday started,
as Mondays always do,
with shopping at the Martian Market.

First, I picked up fresh fixings
to make our famous space-bot veggie batteries.

Next, I grabbed
a yummy asteroid
chew toy for my zog.

And finally, I bought majestic
moondust for my venus-bot flowers.
I'm very proud of their bright-purple color.
That took a lot of work, I'm telling you!
