

FOOD FIGHT

Alex Latimer

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

For Lily and Isla—A.L.

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Oxford is a registered trademark of Oxford University Press in the UK

Text and Illustrations © Alex Latimer 2023

First published in 2023

All rights reserved.

British Library Cataloguing
in Publication Data

Data available

ISBN: 978-0-19-278036-2 (paperback)

1 3 5 7 9 10 8 6 4 2

Printed in China

www.oup.com

Let me tell you a story.
A story about a little fruit and a little vegetable and a forbidden friendship . . .

Grape and Mushroom were best friends, but . . .

. . . they had a problem.

A BIG problem.

For as long as anyone could remember, the Fruits and the Vegetables had been fighting.

Keep your MOULDY mushroom away from our GORGEOUS Grape!

And this made Grape and Mushroom very sad.

Lately things had become even worse.

First, Broccoli stole Banana's skin . . .

. . . and left it just where Orange was jogging!

Then, to pay the Vegetables back, Apple and Pear found . . .

. . . the masher in the bottom drawer.

No one could remember why they'd started fighting,
but the Vegetables thought of a lot of reasons to continue.

You fruits live in a LOVELY BOWL
and we have to live
down in the bottom of the fridge.

Have you ever heard a mum say,
'If you don't finish your FRUIT
you won't get dessert? No!'

NO ONE likes Veggies.
We're always last on a plate.
Or scooped under the table
for the DOG!

And the Fruits found reasons to be bitter too.

You vegetables get to live in that cool white MANSION
in the kitchen.
The fruit bowl doesn't even have a roof.
How is that FAIR?

Why do kids always take an apple for their teacher? How about a POTATO
once in a while?

I'm telling you, if ONE MORE person picks me up and pretends to make a phone call, I'm going to go bananas!

