Snip and Max were playing a game of Leap-Croc, when suddenly . . .

Whoosh!

"What was that?" gasped Snip.

"That," smiled Max proudly, "was my dad.
I'm going to be just like him when I grow up."

"What does your dad do, Snip?" asked Max.

"I don't really know," said Snip. "He goes away in the morning and comes back at night . . . but everything in between is a mystery."
