OUT SIDE

Written and illustrated by

BEE CHUCK

Outside meant neat little corners of green – squashed in between the concrete, tower blocks, houses and roads full of beeping cars.

We rushed around on our way to school or work, always far too busy to stop and notice.

We discovered that chatting on a park bench could be much more appealing than talking on the phone, riding a bicycle could be much more entertaining than going by car and climbing trees could be much more exciting than playing video games.
