BLOOMSBURY

A New Friend

Luna Lovegood meets Harry Potter on board the Hogwarts Express at the beginning of her fourth year. Curious and clever, sometimes dreamy and vague, there's no one else quite like Luna.

Luna shares a train carriage with Harry, Ginny Weasley and Neville Longbottom. She also meets Harry's best friends, Ron Weasley and Hermione Granger.

"The girl gave off an aura of distinct dottiness. Perhaps it was the fact that she had stuck her wand behind her left ear for safekeeping, or that she had chosen to wear a necklace of Butterbeer corks, or that she was reading a magazine upside-down."

Luna is in the year below Harry

Her magazine is called The Quibbler (this issue is meant to be read upside-down)

LUNA LOVEGOOD

Luna is brave enough to be herself, even when it makes her different. She is willing to believe Harry when others are not.

> "Luna took a great breath and then said, without so much as a preliminary hello, 'I believe He Who Must Not Be Named is back and I believe you fought him and escaped from him.'"
