

The British Museum

illustrated by Sophie Beer

MY LITTLE MUSEUM

ANCIENT ROME

Fill your own fold-out museum with 100 stickers!

nosy
crow

ANIMALS

During the bath, Romans, men, women and children exercised the body. Sometimes sports performed scenes from plays and there were even gladiator fights.

TRAINING FOR WAR

Young Roman citizens who joined the army were called legionaries. They learned how to march, fight, and use weapons. They were also trained in the use of the sword and spear.

Most Roman soldiers lived in barracks, which were made out of stone or brick. The barracks were often built in a row, with a central courtyard. On some days, the men would exercise in the courtyard.

Legions were made up of soldiers who were trained in the use of the sword and spear. They were also trained in the use of the bow and arrow. The legions were the main fighting force of the Roman Empire.

The Roman army was very different from the army of today. The Roman army was made up of soldiers who were trained in the use of the sword and spear. They were also trained in the use of the bow and arrow. The legions were the main fighting force of the Roman Empire.

ABOUT ANCIENT ROME

Ancient Rome was a great civilization that lasted for over 1,000 years. It was one of the most powerful and influential civilizations in the world. The Romans were known for their engineering, art, and architecture. They built many great buildings and roads that are still around today.

WORK AND EDUCATION

POTTERY AND SCULPTURE

ANIMALS

CLOTHING AND JEWELLERY

ROME

POTTERY AND SCULPTURE

HEALTH