

Helping you choose books for children

Opening extract from
What Mr Darwin Saw

Written by
Mick Manning and Brita Granström

Published by
Frances Lincoln

All text is copyright of the author and illustrator

Please print off and read at your

For our own little apes:
Max, Bjorn, Frej
and Charlie Manning

Mick and Brita wish to thank the Natural History Museum and in particular Judith Magee, Max Barclay and David M Williams.

What Mr Darwin Saw

by Mick Manning and Brita Granström

F
FRANCES LINCOLN
CHILDREN'S BOOKS

In association with the Natural History Museum, London

What Mr Darwin Saw copyright © Frances Lincoln Limited 2009
Text and illustrations copyright © Mick Manning and Brita Granström 2009

First published in Great Britain and in the USA in 2009 by Frances Lincoln Children's Books, 4 Torrington Mews, Torrington Avenue, London NW5 2RZ
www.franceslincoln.com

All rights reserved

No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form, or by any means, electrical, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise without the prior written permission of the publisher or a licence permitting restricted copying. In the United Kingdom such licences are issued by the Copyright Licensing Agency, Saffron House, 6-10 Kirby Street, London EC1N 8TS

British Library Cataloguing in Publication Data available on request

ISBN 978-1-84507-970-3

Illustrated with watercolour and pencil

Set in Falton and Clarendon

Printed in China

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

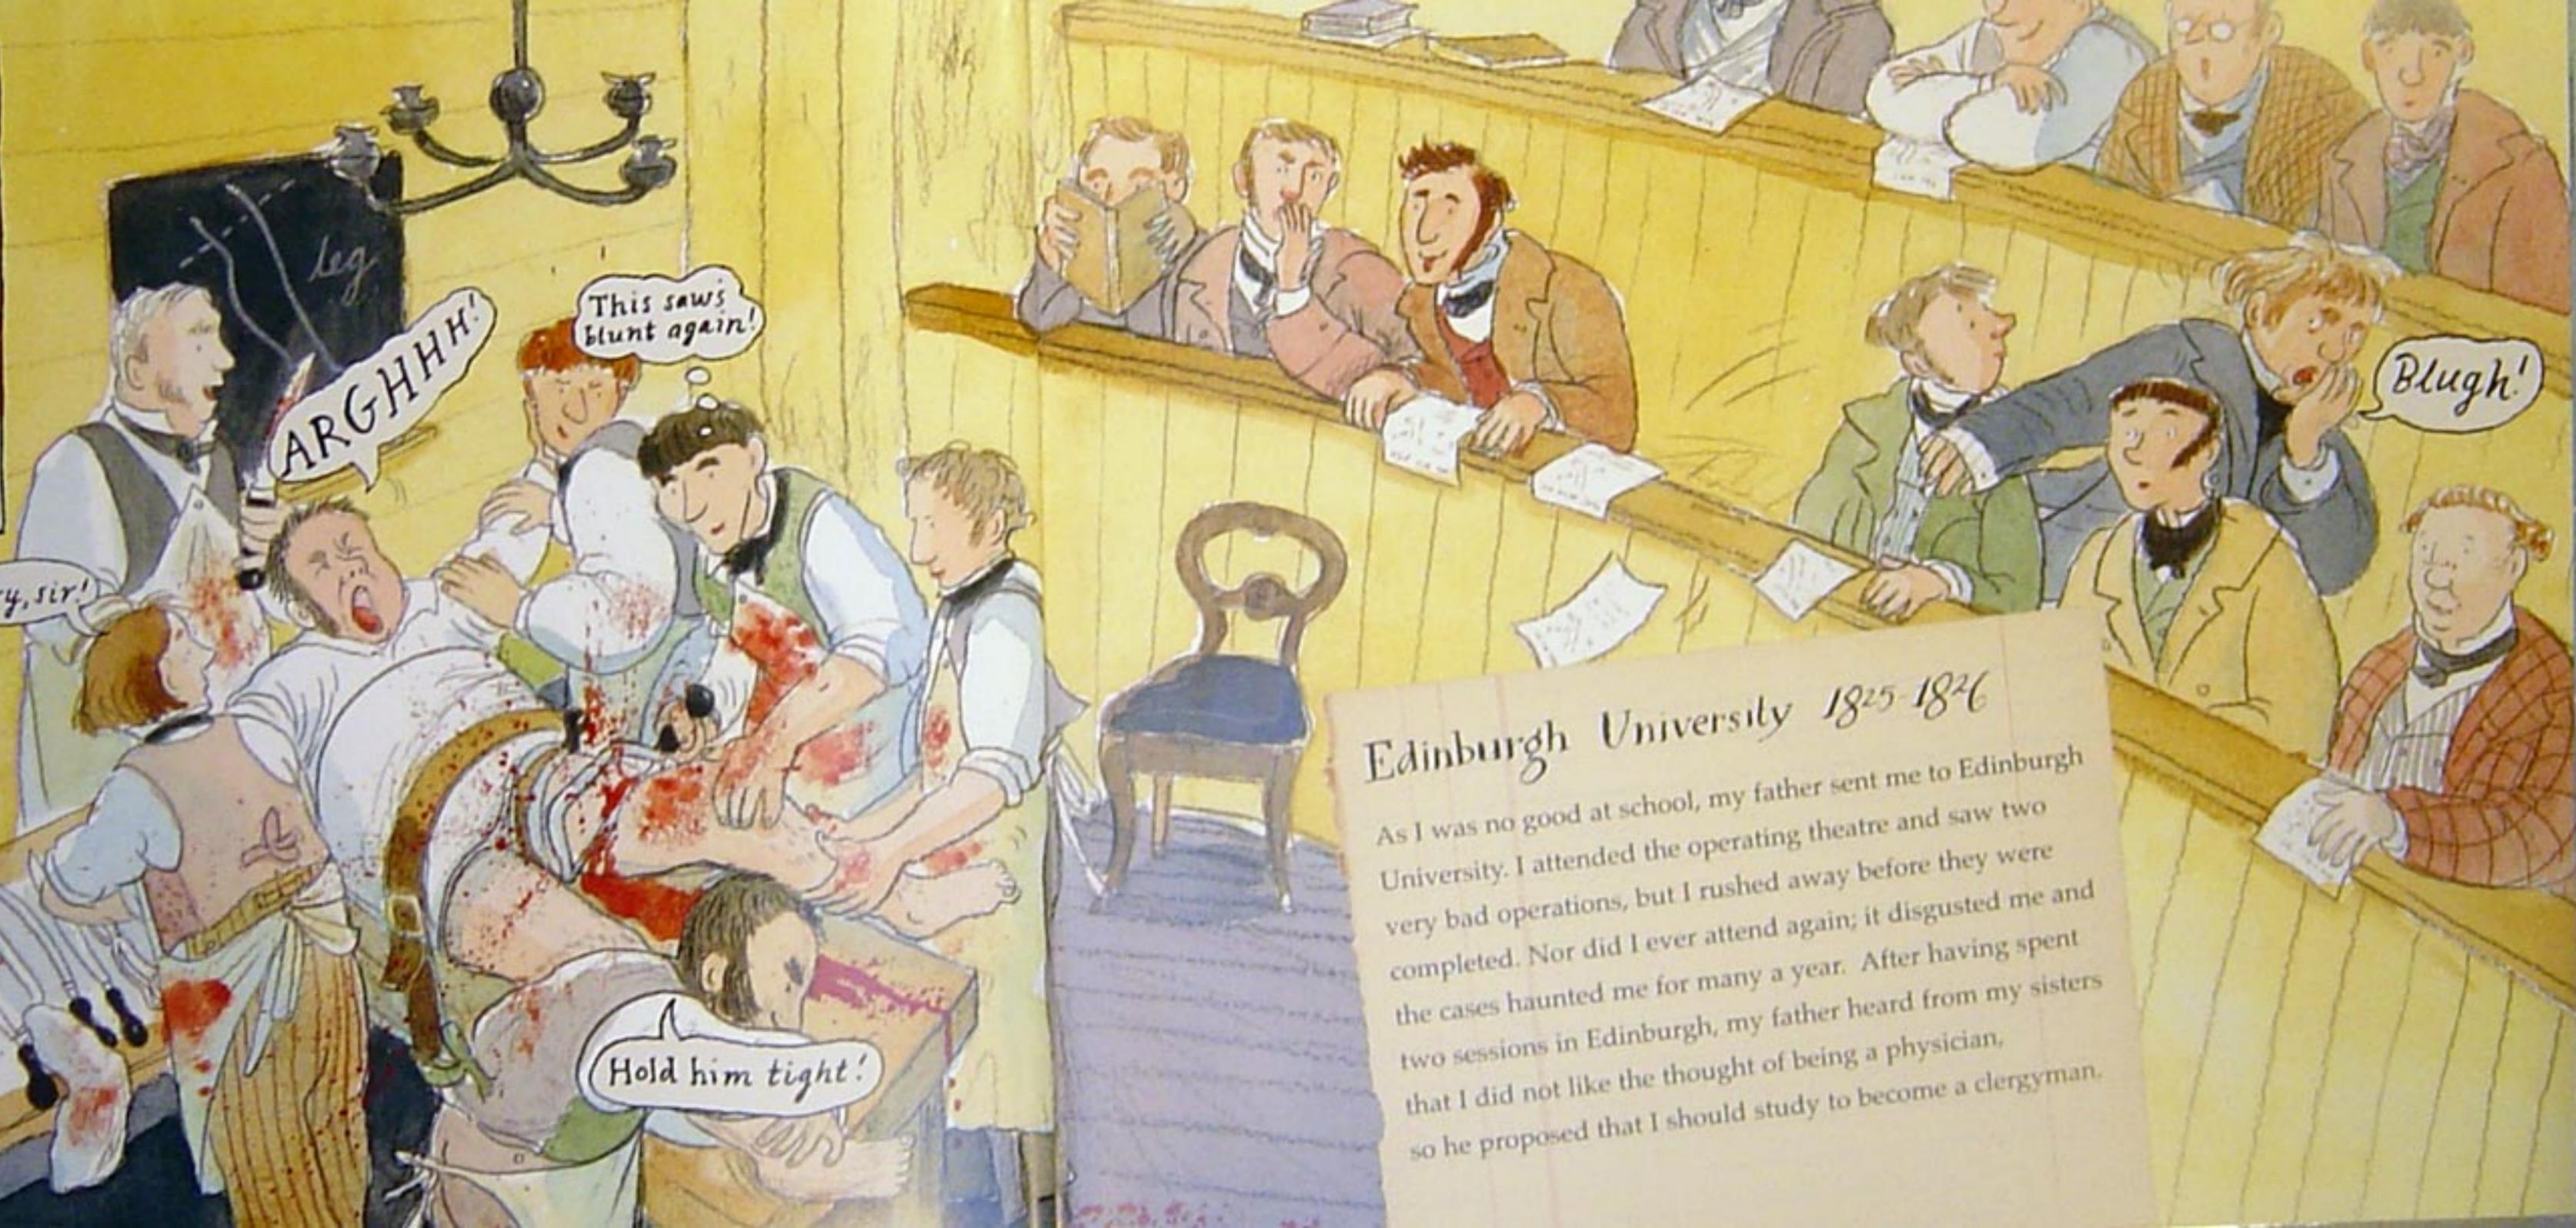

Erasmus Darwin, Charles's grandfather, was a doctor, inventor and poet who was already writing about evolution in the 1790s.

As a young lad Charles spent a lot of time hunting rats . . . and shooting snipe.

Early Days 1809-1825

I was born on 12 February 1809. My mother died when I was eight years old. By the time I went to school my taste for natural history was well developed. I collected all sorts of things. When I left school I was considered by my father a very ordinary boy. My father once said to me, "You care for nothing but shooting, dogs and rat catching and you will be a disgrace to yourself and your family." But my father was the kindest man I ever knew and must have been angry when he used such words.

Edinburgh University 1825-1826

As I was no good at school, my father sent me to Edinburgh University. I attended the operating theatre and saw two very bad operations, but I rushed away before they were completed. Nor did I ever attend again; it disgusted me and the cases haunted me for many a year. After having spent two sessions in Edinburgh, my father heard from my sisters that I did not like the thought of being a physician, so he proposed that I should study to become a clergyman.