Creating Your Stories

It's time to create your own superhero stories – you can add some of the words and complete the pictures yourself. When you've finished this book, you will have a collection of stories that is all yours – different to everyone else's.

Missing Pictures

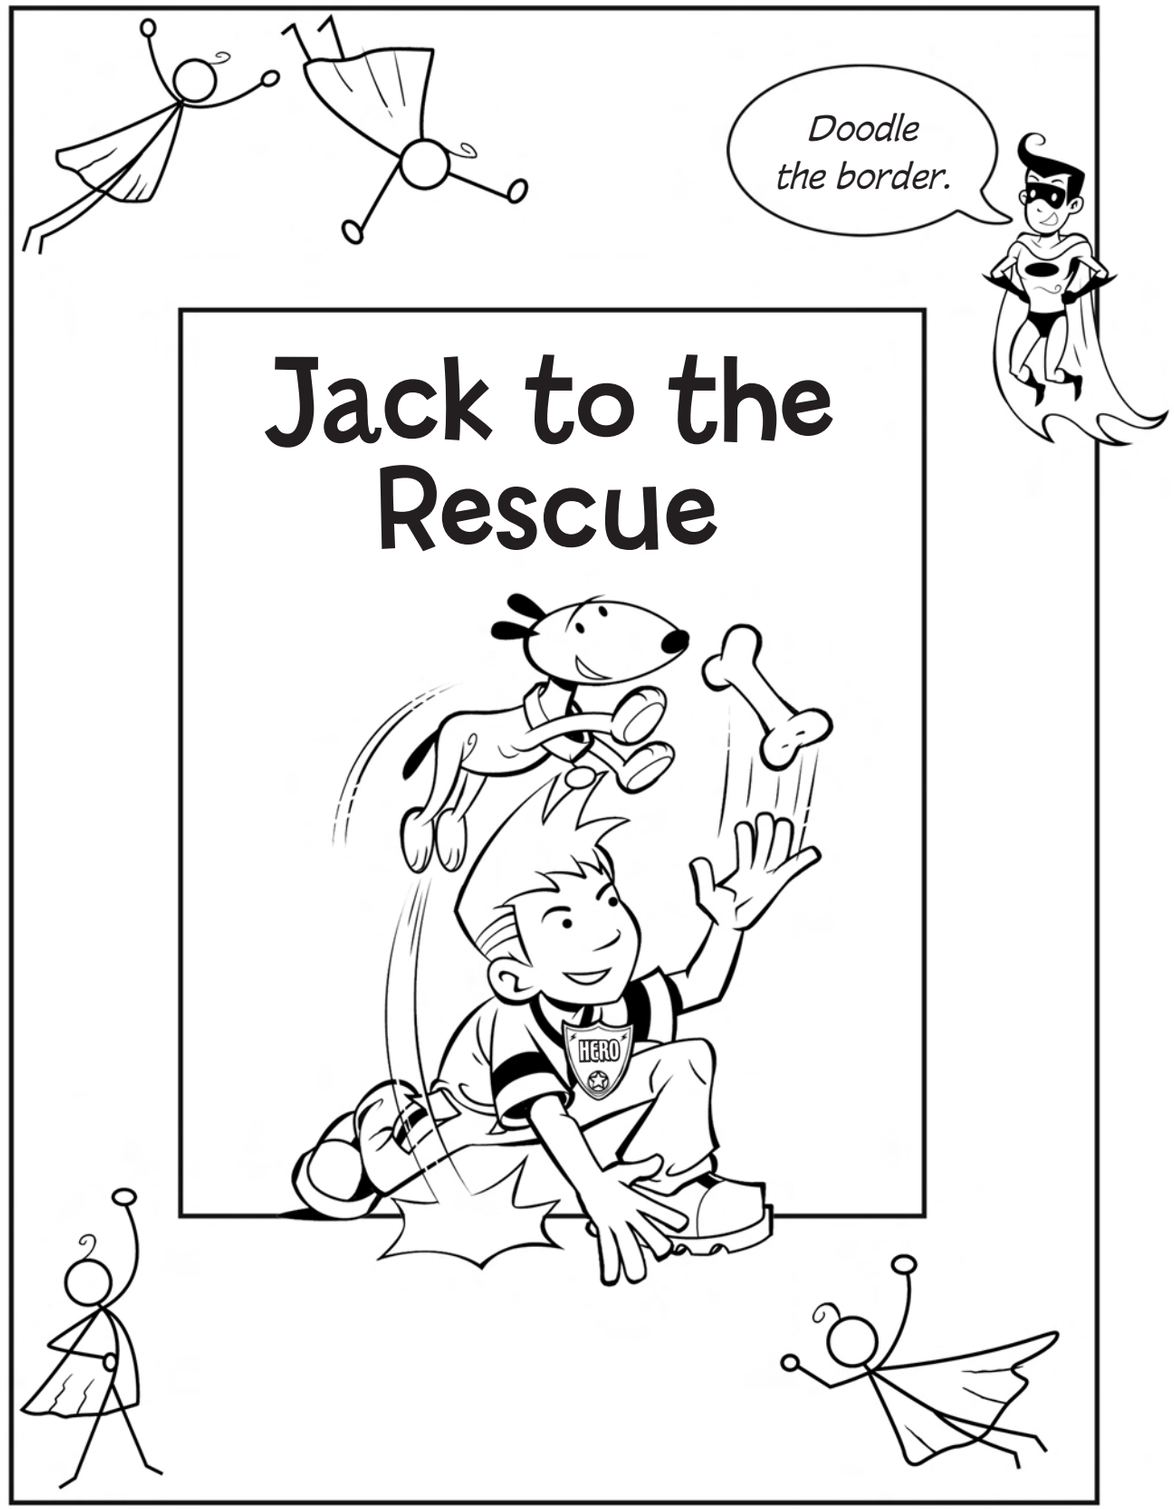

Each page has pictures for you to finish yourself. Let your imagination go crazy – it's completely up to you what doodles you do.

Missing Words

In this book, you will find unfinished sentences with empty boxes to fill.

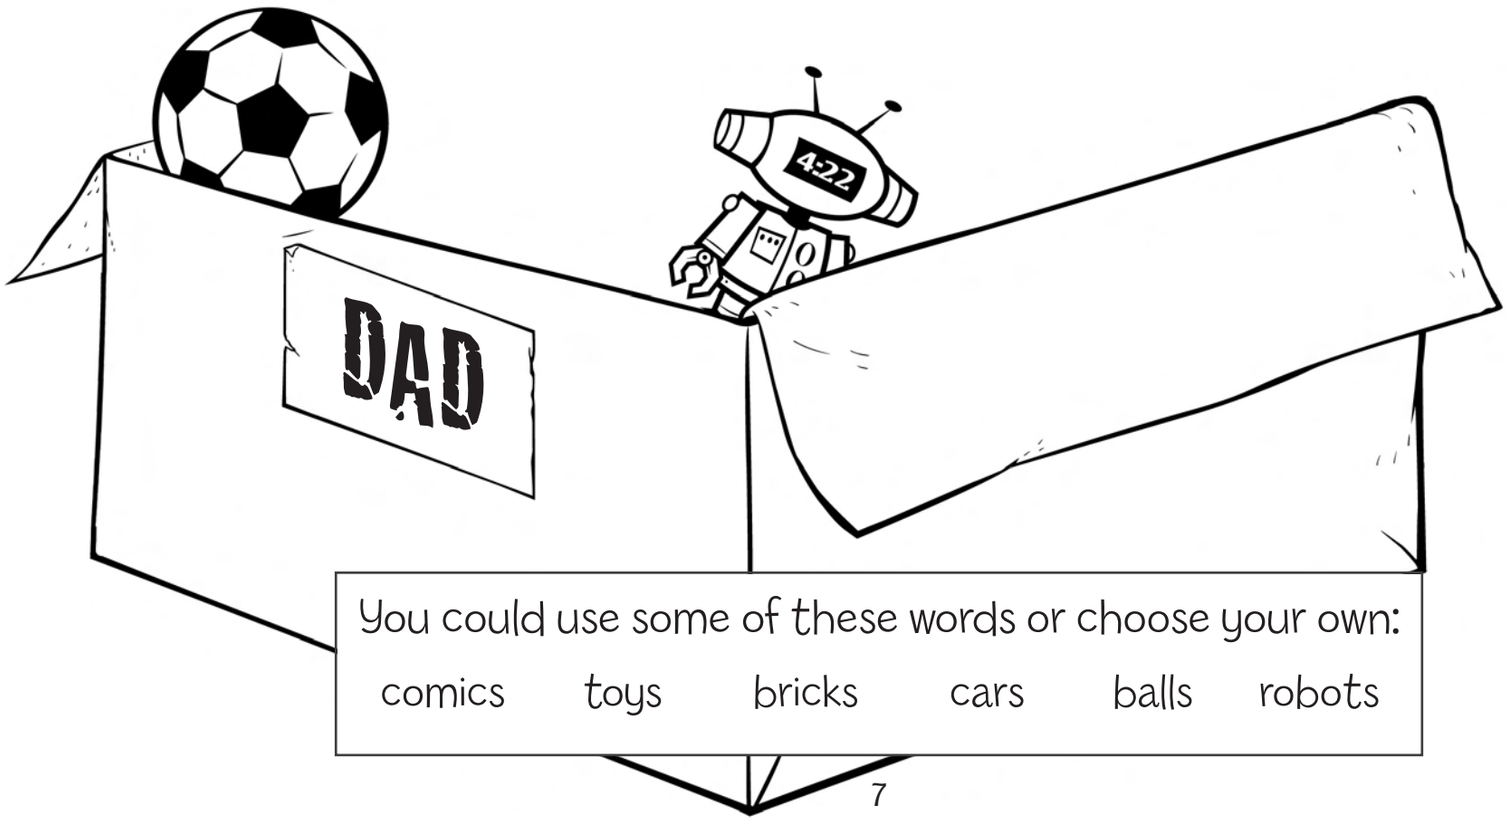

Look at the pictures and decide which words to put in each box. There are no right words or wrong words – it's up to you. If you need some help, on each page there is a selection of words you can choose from.

You could use some of these words or choose your own:
