

Helping your children choose books they will love

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun opening extract from

Here Comes Frankie!

written by

Tim Hopwood

published by

Macmillan Children's Books

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator please print off and read at your leisure.

Suddenly there
came a small squeak,

then a LOUD parp

and a nasty
ear-splitting sound.

Frankie rubbed
his eyes and
wrinkled his nose.

The whole room
was the colour of dirty
dishwater
and smelt like pickled onions!

"Frankie!
Frankie!

I can't hear myself
think," called his father.
"And whatever is that awful stink?"

"I think it's next
door's drains,"
his mother replied.

But it wasn't.
It was coming from Frankie's trumpet!

The air was filled with colourful music and bursts of weird and wonderful smells.

