As Brown Rabbit played,
Little Rabbit danced.

Then Little Rabbit told tales of the city and Brown Rabbit listened.

Together they watched the changing moon until the birds sang to the morning sun.

And for a while Little Rabbit forgot about her life back in the city.

The two rabbits had picnics in the sunshine

and games of hide-and-seek.

They made
each other laugh

and Little Rabbit was happy to have found a new friend.
