Helping your children choose books they will love

I ♥ reading

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

opening extract from

Henry's House: Knights and Castles

written by

Philip Ardagh

published by

Scholastic

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

please print off and read at your leisure.

Lovereading4kids.co.uk

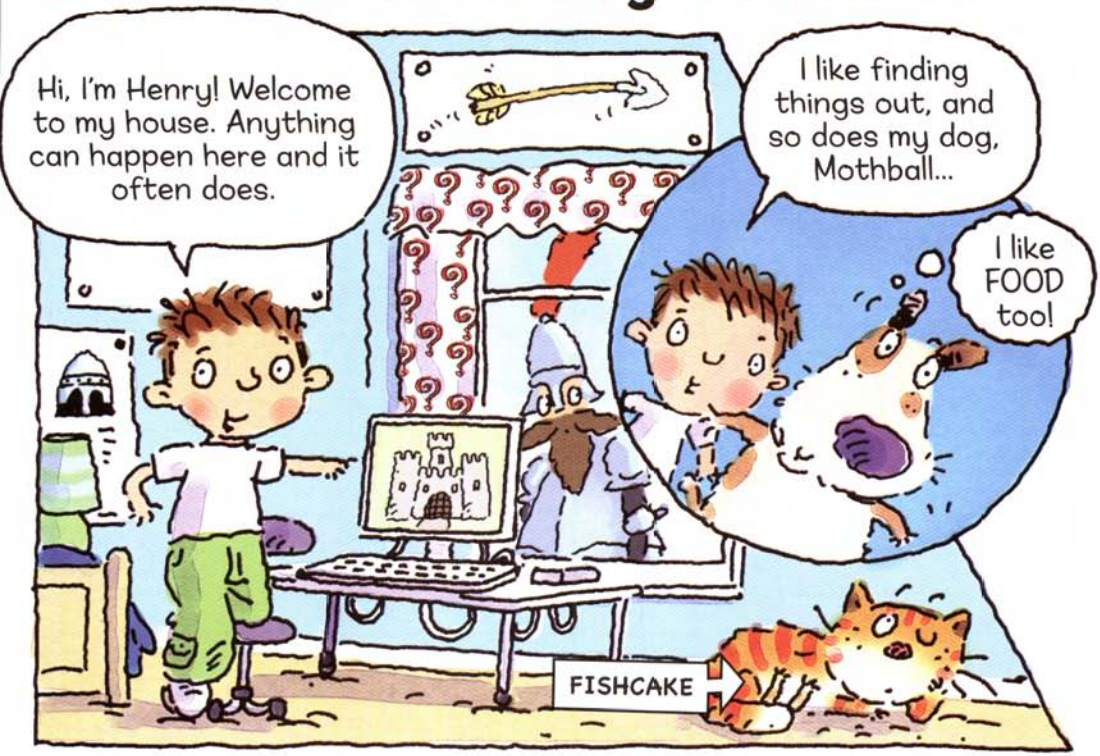

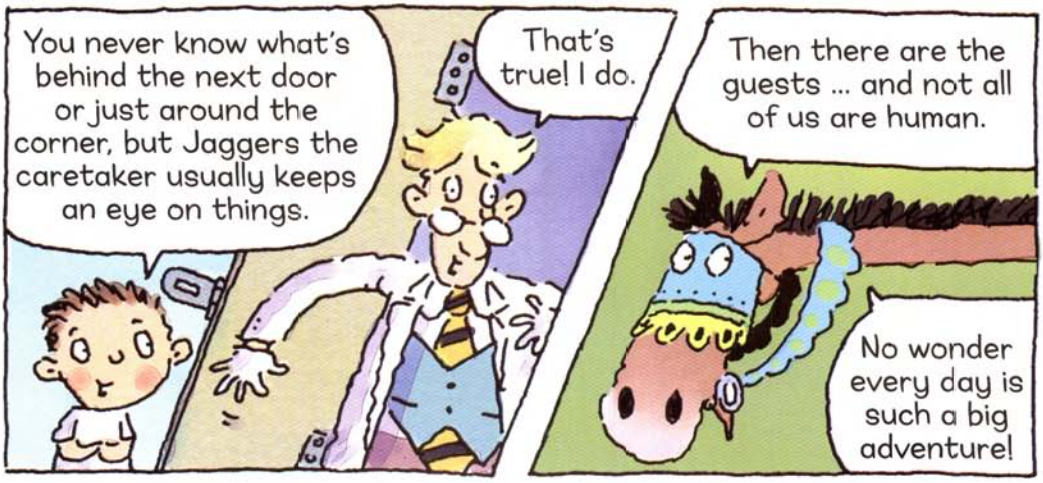

Philip Ardagh and Mike Gordon are regular visitors to Henry's House. Philip (the one with the beard) keeps a note of everything that's going on, and even reads a mind or two. Mike (the one without the beard) sketches whatever he sees, however fantastical it may be ... and together they bring you the adventures of Henry, an ordinary boy in an extraordinary house!

Contents

Welcome to Henry's House! 5
To the tower! 6
Windows and bows 8
The Great Hall 10
Down in the kitchens 12
Page duties 16
A suit of metal 18
Coats-of-arms 22
Who's in charge? 24
From squire to knight 26
Within the walls 28
Bridging the moat 30
Inside and out 32
Practice makes OUCH! 38
A woman's world 40
The hunt is on! 43
Getting ready 47
Joust! 50
A surprise in store! 52
A gallery of castles 54
Banquet 56
At the end of the day 58
Glossary 60
Index 62

Welcome to Henry's House!

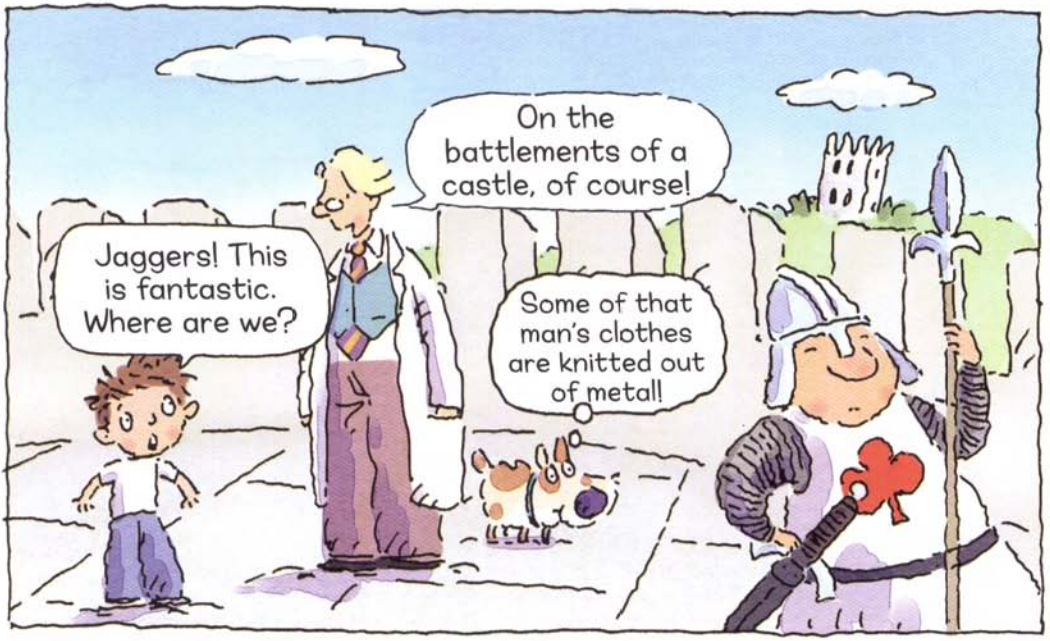

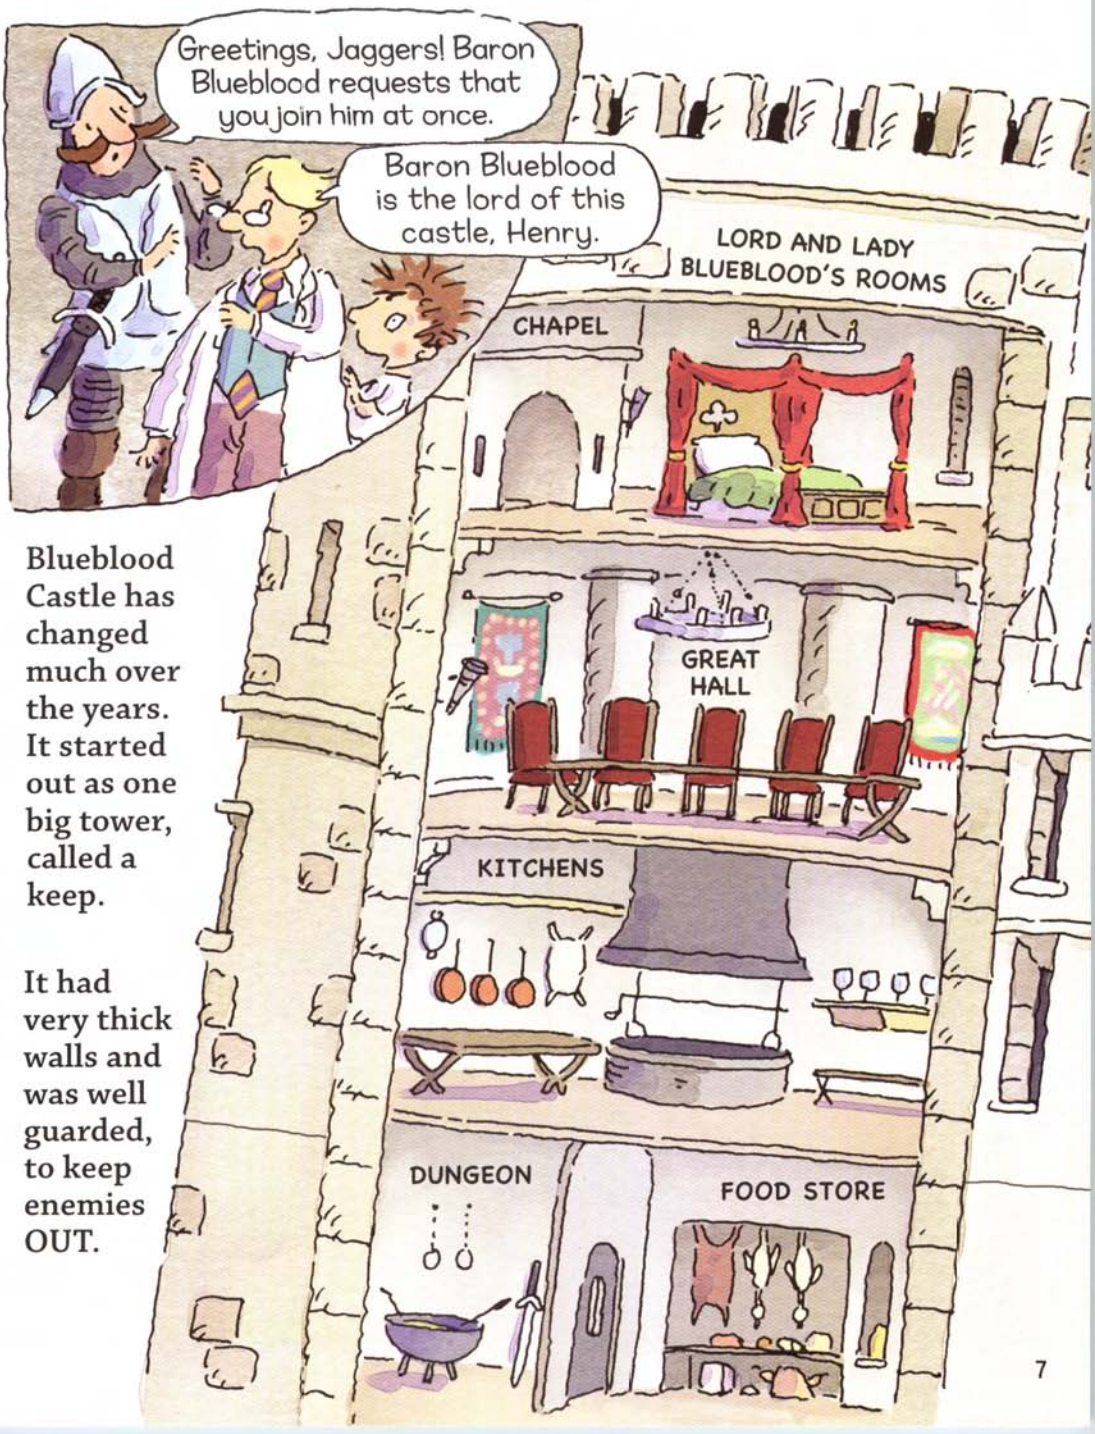

To the tower!

WOW! This was a wardrobe last night, Mothball! I wonder where these stairs lead to?
Hopefully to my food bowl!

Good morning, Henry!

Jaggers! This is fantastic. Where are we?
On the battlements of a castle, of course!
Some of that man's clothes are knitted out of metal!

Blueblood Castle has changed much over the years. It started out as one big tower, called a keep.

It had very thick walls and was well guarded, to keep enemies OUT.