

Helping your children choose books they will love

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

Opening extract from

Sir Charlie Stinky Socks and the Really Dreadful Spell

Written by Kristina Stephenson

Published by Egmont Books Ltd

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

For the wonderful Wayne Winstone and his words of wisdom.

With love.

K.S.

Sir Charlie Stinky Socks would like to donate 10% of the royalties from the sale of this book to Naomi House Children's Hospice.

EGMONT

We bring stories to life

First published in Great Britain 2010
by Egmont UK Limited
239 Kensington High Street
London W8 6SA

Text and illustrations copyright © Kristina Stephenson 2010
All rights reserved
Kristina Stephenson has asserted her moral rights

ISBN (HB) 978 14052 4827 3
ISBN (PB) 978 14052 4828 0

1 3 5 7 9 10 8 6 4 2

A CIP catalogue record for this title is available from the British Library

Printed and bound in Singapore

EGMONT

Once upon a misty morning,
from the top of a
twisty-wisty beanstalk,
Someone was looking down . . .

. . . on to a tall, tall
tower (with a pointy roof)
in the middle of . . .

... a Magical Forest.

It was the day after a little Princess's party and everyone was happy there, when, suddenly – without any warning –
Someone ...

... cast a spell!

And over the Princess, her favourite monster, and a wily witch with a watch (oh and everyone else in this magical world),
a stony silence fell!

Now...

... only a power mightier than magic could break this dreadful spell (if such a power could reach the tower before the sands of time ran out!).

But the only power that was strong enough was twenty leagues from there – in the boots of a knight who'd been at the party and was making his way back home.

Oh no!

Further away from the tower went the power until ...

... Sir Charlie Stinky Socks stopped.

Phew!

The bold, brave knight, and his faithful cat, Envelope, wanted a bite to eat.

So Sir Charlie took out a slice of cake
(a piece he had brought from the Princess's party)
and with one quick flick of his trusty sword he -

Hang on a minute!
Hold this story!

Where WAS his trusty sword?

It was back in the tower, at the bottom of the stairs - where he'd left it after the party.

Gadzooks!

"Never mind," said Sir Charlie. "I suppose lunch will just have to wait."

And he rallied his faithful (famished) cat and mounted his groaning grey mare.

Clip clop, clip clop,
clippety clippety clop!

Back to the forest and the tall, tall tower rode Sir Charlie and his cat.
Oh, and his mighty power
went with him
(along with some wiggly woos).
Good job too!

For in the tall, tall tower (with the pointy roof) time was ...

r u n n i n g o u t!

