

Helping your children choose books they will love

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

Opening extract from You're a Hero, Daley B!

Written by Jon Blake

Published by Walker Books Ltd

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Daley B didn't know
why his feet were so big.

“Are they for water-skiing?”
he said.

“Are they for the mice to sit on?”

“Are they to keep the rain off?”

Daley B saw
the birds in the tree, and
decided he would
live in a tree.

Daley B saw
the squirrels eating acorns, and decided
he would eat acorns.

But he still didn't know why his feet
were so big.

One day, there was a great panic in the woodland. All the rabbits gathered beneath Daley B's tree.

"You must come down at once, Daley B!" they cried.
"Jazzy D is coming!"

“Who is Jazzy D?”
asked Daley B.
The rabbits were
too excited to answer.
They scattered
across the grass
and vanished
into their burrows.

Daley B stayed in his tree,
and nibbled another acorn,
and wondered about his big feet.