Helping your children choose books they will love

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

Opening extract from

A Rainbow Shopping Day

Written by

Vivian French and Selina Young

Published by

Orion

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Lovereading4kids.co.uk

A Rainbow Shopping Day

Vivian French

Illustrated by Selina Young

Orion
Children's Books

The stories from A Rainbow Shopping Day originally appeared in The Story House first published in Great Britain in 2004
by Orion Children's Books
This edition first published in 2012
by Orion Children's Books
a division of the Orion Publishing Group Ltd
Orion House
5 Upper St Martin's Lane
London WC2H 9EA
An Hachette UK Company

Text copyright © Vivian French 2004 and 2012
Illustrations copyright © Selina Young 2004
Designed by Louise Millar

The right of Vivian French and Selina Young to be identified as the author and illustrator respectively of this work has been asserted.

All rights reserved.
No part of this publication may be reproduced,
stored in a retrieval or transmitted, in any form
or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior permission of Orion Children's Books.

A catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library

Printed and bound in China

ISBN 978 1 4440 0517 2

Contents

A Rainbow Shopping Day 9

Hunter's Lost Bone 33

A Rainbow Shopping Day

Jason wasn't well. He was still in bed, even though it was nearly lunchtime. Hunter the dog came to sit beside him.

"Woof?" said Hunter.

"I can't play with you today," Jason told him. "I'm not very well."

Mum came into Jason's room. "How are you feeling?" she asked.

Jason sighed. "My head hurts."

"Poor Jason," said Mum. She sat down beside him. "Shall I tell you a story?"

"A story about me?" Jason asked.

"You, and all of us," Mum said.

Jason nodded. "OK."

A Rainbow Shopping Day

It was a Tuesday morning.

"My shoes hurt," said Jason.

"We'll have a look in the market," Mum said. "It's market day today."

"Can I have blue trainers?" Jason asked.

Mum smiled. "We'll see what we can find."

They were just about to go when Granny Annie came hurrying towards them.

"Where are you off to?" she asked.

"We're going to the market," said Jason. "We're going to buy blue trainers."

"That's nice," said Granny Annie. "I'd like to buy a bright red jumper. I'll come with you."

Jason and Mum and Granny Annie went down the road.

They hadn't gone far when Jason's big brother, Ross, came running up behind them.

"Wait for me!" he said. "I want to come! Julius says they've got great kites at the toy stall. I want to buy one!"

"I'm going to buy new blue trainers," said Jason. He looked at Ross. "I could help you choose your kite. You could have a blue one, like my trainers.

"A bright red kite would be fun," said Granny Annie. "It would match my bright red jumper."

"What about a yellow kite?" asked Mum. "A yellow one to match the bananas."

"What bananas?" asked Jason.

"The bananas I'm going to buy at the market," said Mum.

"We need oranges too," said Ross. "And apples."

"OK," said Mum. "I'll get oranges and apples as well."

