

Helping your children choose books they will love

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun

Opening extract from Mrs MacCready was ever so greedy

Written by Julie Fulton

Illustrated by Jona Jung

Published by Maverick Arts Publishing

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

Mrs MacCready was ever so greedy she did nothing else but EAT.
fish fingers and chips, apples with pips, plates FULL of succulent meat.

Bacon and ham, GOBBLED with jam, brown eggs scrambled or fried.
All sorts of berries, especially cherries even with WORMS inside.

An indian curry she ate in a HURRY accompanied by chutney and rice.
A pink wobbly jelly SLID down to her belly, followed by sweet sugar mice.

A large, pink, cartoonish monster with a wide-open mouth full of white teeth is shown. Inside its mouth is a small gingerbread man with a surprised expression, wide eyes, and an open mouth. The gingerbread man has yellow buttons and a pink nose. To the left of the monster's head is a large, orange, textured shape with yellow eyes and a pink nose, which is the gingerbread man's head. The background is white with some green grass and pink flowers at the bottom.

Hot spicy mustard and bright yellow CUSTARD, a man made of warm gingerbread.
She loved his cute nose and sweet little toes, but FIRST she would bite off his head.

Roast potatoes and pork PILED high on her fork she popped in her mouth to chew, with MUSHY green peas and smelly old cheese she licked her plate clean, wouldn't you?

When in the right mood her favourite food was chocolate cake covered in CREAM, with strawberries on top and a big glass of pop, it MADE all her neighbours scream.

‘Mrs MacCready, you’re far too GREEDY, please find something else to do,
like play in the park or HUNT after dark, it’s really much better for you.’

