ANT and BEE and the Rainbow

is a happy, never-ending story about paint and colour. You can join Ant and Bee as they paint their make-believe rainbow over and over again!

All my ANT and BEE books are for shared reading.
If a parent or older child reads the black words
then young children can join in the storytelling by calling out the words printed in red, yellow, blue
and all the other colours as they appear in the pictures and text.

This story is all about how

Ant and Bee saw a . . .

rainbow

Ant wished he could play on the rainbow.

Bee said that no one could play on a real rainbow.

Then Ant and Bee said they must play on a make-believe rainbow.

Suddenly the rainbow in the sky disappeared.

Then Ant and Bee began to look for something that could become a make-believe rainbow.

Soon Ant and Bee found something that could be a make-believe rainbow . . .
